Boy Smokers.

Here and there about the street corners and around the doors of places of amusement you will see a lot of urchins, some of them decently clad and presenting a respectable appearance, who are engaged in asserting their manhood by puffing away at execrable cigars. It is fair to presume that their anxious mammas are not aware of the foul habits their darling boys pick up and practice outside of the parental roof; but for their benefit they should know that it is stated that a French physician has investigated the effect of smoking on thirty-eight boys, between the ages of nine and fifteen, who were addicted to the habit. "Twenty-seven presented distinct symptoms of nicotine poison. In twenty-two there were serious disorders of the circulation, indigestion, dullness of intellect, and a marked appetite for strong drinks. In three there was heart affection; in eight decided deterioration of the blood; in twelve there was frequent epitoxis; ten had disturbed sleep; and four had ulceration of the mucus membrane of the mouth." It is easy, then, to see how the ranks of the drunkards and dissolute "men about town" are recruited, when there are so many boys in training for delirium tremens and all the horrors of dissipation.—Louisville Courier Journal.

In the German cities, the afternoon concert is as much an institution as dinner. Whole families look for their afternoon music as anxiously as they look for the promenade. The factory was at the same time set on fire, and the building was entirely destroyed.

TRINITY COLLEGE, Cambridge, has led the way in the restoration of the ancient English and present continental mode of pronouncing Latin. The change in the sounds of the vowels was one of those made at the Reformation, and it has made English Latin unintelligible to all the rest of the world. Now, England is going back in this and other matters, to the older fashion, which has been adopted at King's College, and will soon become universal.

A COMMUNICATION from Carlsruhe states that the speech pronounced by the Grand Duke of Baden for the close of the Chambers, so, redolent of affectionate regard for Prussia and North Germany, appears to have produced in that Duchy an effect diametrically opposed to what was expected by the illustrious speaker. THE Baltimore American of the 2d said: That great bugbear, equality in the city cars, which has been gnawing at the thin-skinned objections of certain persons, who have declared that they would rather walk from one end of this city to the other than ride in a city car with a colored person, was yesterday introduced in Baltimore, and to the utter astonishment of those persons who predicted that the cars set apart for the colored persons would be run without passengers, they yesterday traversed our streets with about the same quota of passengers as were wont to patronize them before the words "Colored persons admitted into this car," were placarded. The truth is, that a sensible lady or gentleman who cares to ride in the cars cares but little who compose the passenger list, so long as said passengers observe that decorum which should pervade all gatherings.

AMONG the Cossacks of the Ukraine leap year is eternal. When a young woman feels a tender passion for a young man she seeks him at the residence of his parents, and addresses him as follows: "The goodness I see written in your countenance is a sufficient assurance to me that you are capable of ruling and loving a wife, and your excellent qualties encourage me to hope that you will make a good husband. It is in this belief that I have taken the resolution to come and beg you, with all due humility, to accept me for your spouse." She then addresses the father and mother, and solicits their consent to the marriage. If she meets with a refusal, she declines to leave the house, and such conduct is usually crowned with success. The parents of the young man never put the young maiden away, if she still persists in her stay, believing that by so doing they would bring down the vengeance of heaven upon their heads.

THE Marion, O., Mirror tells the following snake story: "On the 10th inst., at Big Island township, in this county, on the farm of Alexander Campbell, a great snake hunt occurred. The party was headed by Captain Jackson Brady, who led his gallant company down into the tall prairie grass, and surrounded a twenty-acre lot, set fire on the outer edge of the grass at 4 P.M. The grass burned well, the flames rolling up ten feet high, and as the fire advanced the snakes retreated to the centre, sometimes making desperrte efforts to spring through the flames, but the blaze being too heavy they were killed in the attempt. At 7:45 P. M. the ground was burned over, and Captain Brady went over the field of carnage and picked up the debris of the great army of snakes, and by actual count there was found 13,983 snakes of all sizes. One black racer was nine feet and four inches long and seven feet in circumference! This may be considered a good day's work for this neighborhood, as the snakes had become so bad that small children were afraid to go to school, and they even attacked some adults, several having been bitten on their boots, and it had become a common thing for fifty or a hundred snakes to chase men, women and children across this prarie. They were constantly milking the cows, and therefore interfering with the dairy business in that section.

The Tables Turned—A Heathen Missionary in London.

It is an odd revolution in religious affairs, by which a missionary of Brahma has come to convert the people of England to what he believes to be the true faith. But this revolution has begun. Keshub Chunder Sen is the latest sensation in London, and is preaching in that city to crowded congregations upon the leading points of the Brahminical religion. When Rome had subdued Greece, the conquerors were taught philosophy and the arts by the conquerered, and in like manner it would appear that India, having been reduced to a condition of dependency upon Great Britain, is seeking to impress her learning and her theology upon her Western masters.

Keshub Chunder Sen has many advantages as a missionary. He speaks the language of the nation he comes to convert with ease and propriety. From the accounts of his oratory, given in the London papers we may fairly infer that for grace, earnestness and fluency he is the superior of the greater number of the English clergy.

It was long ago said by intelligent tourists, and among them Mr. Tuckerman, the present Minister to Greece, and, if we mistake not, by the Abbe Huc himself, that the most learned of the Chinese theologians often obtained the victory over the Christian missionary in argument, by reproaching the enlightened nations of Christendom with the wars and violence and widespread licentiousness which eighteen centuries of Biblical teachings had wholly failed to suppress. But that the priests of the false religions of the world should go forth to contend with the Christian Church in enlightened lands is surely a striking fact, which we may not dismiss as simply ludicrous.

Keshub Chunder Sen is not without European co-workers in this new missionary movement. A work has recently been published in France, of which Carleton of this city has just issued an English translation, entitled, "The Bible in India," wherein M. Jacollicot seeks to prove that the sacred Scriptures are but a rude copy of the Vedas. The argument aims to establish that the gospel of Brahma is of higher antiquity and of more vital power than what the Christian nations believe to be the word of God. The question of the comparative age of these writings is one which must be left to scholars, and is quite apart from the binding authority and the saving efficacy of the Bible. There need be no fear that this holy volume, let it be excluded or not from the public schools, is to be displaced by the lore of the Rabbins or the works of Confucius, but it is not the least remarkable consequence of the close commercial relations between the East and West, which Suez canals and Pacific railways have brought about, that the Pundits of India should sally forth to effect the conversion of mankind.

THE MAYORALTY CONTEST.

The Republican Mayoralty Convention met to-day. Two sets of delegates present from the various wards. The Bowen men were in the majority. The opposing interest withdrew and nominated A. C. Richards, present Chief of Police, for Mayor. The remaining delegates re-nominated Mayor Bowen. It is understood Richards will decline and his place be filled by the name of Mathew G. MEDICAL ASSOCIATION.

In the American Medical Association to-day the nomenclature of diseasees, prepared by the Royal College of Physicians in 1869, was adopted. A resolution recommending the establishment of veterinary schools in States, and appropriations therefor by the Legislatures, was adopted. The several medical schools were recommended to establish Chairs of Psychology for the treatment of mental diseases. A committee was appointed to report measures to prevent the spread of epidemic diseases. Two reports were made from the Committee on Ethics, the majority rejecting the claim to seats of delegates from the Alumni of Georgetown College, National Medical Society, Freedmen's Hospital and Small-pox Hospital, while the minority give them seats. After a scene of considerable excitement and confusion, the minority report was tabled—107 against 85, and the majority report adopted.

JAMES RIVER AND OHIO CANAL.

The Senate Committee on Commerce has been discharged at their own request, from the consideration of the subject of a survey for the James River and Ohio Canal, General Humphrey, chief of engineers, having reported that the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad would probably be speedily completed and serve military purposes better than a canal.

The McFarland Trial—Further Evidence for Defense and Prosecution.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, May 5, 1870.

M'FARLAND TRIAL—TWENTY-SECOND DAY.

On the opening of Court this morning Mr. Graham, referring to the cross-examination of Junias Henri Browne, read from Barker's Commentaries that a man can be cross-examined as to his religious belief, or belief of after punishment. Mr. Browne had frequently expressed his disbelief in the Deity.

Donald Nicholson, recalled: Received a package from Richardson, which I think was a pistol, on the 25th of November, immediately after the shooting; gave it to Junius Henri Browne.

Mr. Graham was about to examine the witness further in this strain, but the Recorder ruled it inadmissible.

Melchoir P. Mason testified: I remember when McFarland was in my house. Never saw him drunk. He and his wife appeared to be very happy. I did not receive the night key from Browne; he rather refused to give it to me; this was before the first shooting.

Dennis Shay recalled—Was in court when Howell was examined. Howell said to McF. that if he (Howell) was in McFarland's place, he would shoot Richardson. This was in December, 1867.

Mr. Graham was about to examine the witness as to the meeting of McFarland and Richardson in the Astor House, which Browne testified to yesterday. Some argument was had as to the admissibility of this evidence, which was intended to prove that McFarland merely went in there on business—to serve a summons on Richardson.

Isaac G. Reed journalist, testified: Write for the Tribune and Day's Doings. Met Horace Greeley five or six times. Had an interview with him immediately after the occurrence on the 25th November. Published it within four hours of the meeting. Used in many cases the exact words, and always as near as possible. In many cases I modified the language, and when Greeley used "God damn," I simply put down "dam;" out of respect to him. Mr. Greeley used that language. This was to the sixth paragraph from the report read by Mr Graham.

Fitz Hugh Ludlow, recalled—I had a conversation with McFarland. Told him I would have have been able to get some articles in the Post and Home Journal if he had sent me a ticket for the reading at Steinway Hall, given by Mrs. McFarland. He said he did not wish any of his friends to know of it, and regretted she should leave the sanctity of her home. He also said he did not consent to her going on the stage, but at the earnest request of some of her friends. McFarland brought me an article which I retouched and gave him; it was afterwards published in the Educational Monthly.

William D. Norton was recalled, and Mr. Gerry said he would show that Richardson and Mrs. McFarland, while in Sinclair's house, occupied rooms only separated by a curtain, and Mrs. McFarland brought him in his meals in bed, and made up his bed.

The Court excluded this testimony, on the ground that it would oblige a rebuttal by the prosecution, being new testimony.

The Court took a recess, and on reassembling Amos J. Cummings testified: In a conversation with Junius Henri Brown, he told me Richardson would have shot McFarland, only he was afraid he would hurt some body else in the Tribune office.

Q.—Did you, after the first shooting, have a conversation with Richardson, when he said he was prepared for McFarland?

Much argument arose in regard to the admissibility of this testimony, Mr. Graham arguing it was right that Richardson's sentiments toward the prisoner be made known to the jury.

Recorder—I think the question incompetent and it must be excluded.

Mr. Wm. McFarland, recalled, testified to the authenticity of certain letters of Mrs. McFarland.

Mr. Gerry then submitted one dated November 21st, 1859. It commenced "My Darling Husband," acknowledges the receipt of McFarland's letter and twenty dollars, and states how she will dispose of the sum. She was very much affected about what he said about the misunderstanding between them; acknowledges herself to be perverse and obstinate, and the whole letter replete with expressions of affection. Mr. Graham wished to read another letter, showing she did go to her father's house, not to be a burden to them, but to pay a friendly visit. They being so poor they could hardly support themselves, it was scarcely to be supposed they would support her. The Court excluded it.

Several other letters were read from Mrs. Sage, mother of Mrs. McFarland, including one dated December 8, 1867, after the separation, inviting McFarland and Percy to visit her.

Dr. Vance, recalled: I have heard all the evidence from the beginning, and have heard nothing to make me change my opinion in regard to the insanity of the prisoner.

The defence here rested.

For the prosecution Thomas F. Holden testified: Am a son-in-law of Mr. Gilbert. Was in his house in August, 1869. Never saw Mrs. McFarland until at Richardson's bedside. While in Gilbert's I was obliged to walk on crutches.

Wheelwright Gilbert testified: Was not at home all last summer. Mrs. McFarland came to my house, for the first time I know of, a few days before the trial.

Curtis R. Gilbert testified: Was home during the entire month of August. Mrs. McFarland came to the house in July. I wore a long beard at the time.

Court adjourned.

The House Osage Indian land bill came up in order.

Mr. MORRILL, of Maine, moved to take up the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill.

Mr. EDMUNDS made an ineffectual effort to get up the bill to enforce the Fifteenth Amendment.

Mr. HOWE argued the franking bill should take precedence, and several Senators insisted upon adhering to an alleged understanding on the previous day to take up Mr. Morrill's bill.

The Osage Indian Land bill was then proceeded with, the question being on the amendment of Mr. Ross to take the land from the Indians at twenty cents an acre, and give them to certain railroads in Kansas at specified sums, giving settlers on the reservation the right to purchase one hundred and sixty acres each at $1.25 an acre.

Mr. MORRILL, of Maine, spoke against the bill, the passage of which he said would be a legislative scandal. He moved to recommit the bill, with instructions to report a bill for the removal of the Osage Indians to the Indian Territory, and the sale of their reservation for cash, as other public lands were disposed of.

The bill was laid aside without action.

The bill to abolish the franking privilege came up as the special order.

Mr. STEWART moved to pass over the bill in order to take up the next special order, the bill to enforce the fifteenth amendment.

Mr. RAMSEY called for the yeas and nays, which were ordered and the motion lost—yeas 25, nays 30.

Mr. MORRILL, of Vermont, moved to pass over the present business, and proceed with the legislative appropriation bill. Carried—26 to 21.

Adjourned.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

Mr. PAINE, from Committee on Elections, reported a bill regulating compensation in cases of contested elections. Re-committed.

The House then went into business of the morning hour, being the bill to regulate the civil service.

After speeches against the bill by Messrs. Peters, Niblack, Morrell, Me. and Maynard,

Mr. KELSEY moved to lay the bill on the table. Negatived—yeas 43, nays 104.

The discussion continued by Mr. BENTON, in opposition to the bill.

Amendments were offered by Mr. ARNELL, providing that the bill shall apply without distinction as to sex; by Mr. LOUGHRIDGE, looking to equal proportion of offices among States, and by Mr. O'NEILL, to strike out the payment of fees for examination and certificate.

The bill and amendments were then, on Mr. Jencke's motion, recommitted and ordered printed.

Mr. ORTH, from Committee on Foreign Affairs, made a report in the matter of the Paraguay investigation, and gave notice he would call it up for action as soon as possible.

Mr. WOOD presented the views of the minority as reported by Messrs. Swann and Willand, and stated he concurred with some of the resolutions reported by the majority and minority, but did not think there was anything in the record calling for any action by the House.

The Senate amendment to the House bill limiting the appointment of certain officers of the Treasury Department was concurred in.

Senate bill to establish an additional land district in Kansas was passed.

Senate bill authorizing the Northern Pacific Railroad to issue its bonds for the construction of the road, and to secure the same by mortgage coming up,

Mr. WHEELER moved to put the bill on its passage, and addressed the House in advocacy of it.

Mr. HAWLEY proposed to offer an amendment requiring all the land granted to the company to be sold to actual settlers only, and in quantities not greater than one hundred and sixty acres to any one person, and for a price not exceeding $2.50 per acre, and made an argument in support of that proposition.

Mr. WILSON, of Minnesota, opposed the amendment, and denounced the bill and land grant system as wrong in principle and an outrage on tax payers. This road had already received 45,000,000 acres of public land, and this bill proposed to give it 2,250,000 more. He supposed, however, it would be passed, for he thought he saw in that provision of it which required American rails to be used in the road a combination between land speculators and high protectionists, and he intimated that Mr. Weeeler, chairman of the Pacific Railroad Committee, had in his other capacity, as chairman of the Committee of the Whole on the Tariff bill, lent his aid to that combination.

After further discussion Mr. WHEELER demanded the previous question, which was seconded—78 to 59—excluding all amendments.

Mr. STILES moved to lay the bill on the table. Negatived—yeas 58, nays 85.

Motions to adjourn and to reconsider the vote ordering the main question were made and negatived by yeas and nays.

Dilatory proceedings were continued thereafter until 4.50, when by vote of 76 to 67 the House adjourned to Monday.

The Excitement in France—High Court of Justice Convoked for the Trial of the Conspirators—Woman Suffrage in England—Exportation of London "Arabs"—The Ecumenical Council.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

FRANCE.

PARIS, May 5.—The Journal Officiel contains a decree convoking the High Court of Justice for the trial of those recently arrested for implication in the plot against the Emperor.

The report of Minister Ollivier, preceding the decree, shows the existence of a revolutionary party, having for its object the establishment of a democratic and social Republic. Its weapons are misrepresentation, systematic outrage, calumny, emeutes and assassinations. The new liberties, so far from appeasing, increase its frenzy. It sees in them only facilities for increased organization and extension of its influence. Its existence and purposes are scarcely concealed in its assemblies and in the columns of journals which follow its fortunes. He exposes its designs and declares himself in possession of evidence sufficient to prove criminal attempt and conspiracy. He reproduces parts of the speech in which he announced the existence of this party and told its number. The Government hoped kindness and patience would suffice to conquer passions which had their rise in other times, but he is forced to believe that energetic repression is the only means through which to re-establish peace and respect for law, without which the inauguration of free institutions would be a foolhardy step. Since the appeal to the people had already been decreed, his first instruction was to delay this trial, in order that involuntary evidence might not seem an electioneering maneuver. But the revolutionists have sought to sweep away by one crime the reigning Sovereign and the Constitution, which would be to destroy with a sure blow the State itself, and they have resolved to execute their purpose before the 8th of May. Their plans have for a long time been prepared. Under these circumstances, it is our duty to publicly surrender them to justice. The number inculpated, the nature and gravity of the affair and exigencies of public order, demand the exercise of the powers of the High Court in the trial and judgment of the cause.

Then follows a report of the Procureur General, showing that in their public assemblies ardent revolutionists had come together to prepare insurrection attempts against the Emperor. The report gives some details of the conspiracy of February and accuses the conspirators of having participated in the emeute which followed the arrest of Rochefort, and of having designed to assassinate the Emperor by an explosion of nitro glycerine.

The report publishes, for the purpose of proving the complicity of the International Association of Workingmen, a letter from Volin, President of that Society, in which he says the Association should concert for united action in case of an outbreak. The report then passes to the new conspiracy and declares that the confession of Beaury shows that he was in collusion with Gustave Flourens in a plot to assassinate the Emperor.

A letter is published from Flourens to Beaury, wherein the question of the attempt is discussed, also a letter from Beaury to Ballot, a friend of Flourens, in which he invites him to assist at amputations in Rue de Rivoli, where there were likely to be wounded men on the 21st of April, between the hours of two and four o'clock. Another letter from Flourens, found at the house of Ballot and dated April 29th, speaks likewise of that affair.

The report then gives an account of the discovery of bombs, and states there might be another foundry where bombs were manufactured. The report announces the arrest of Ballot.

The Procureur General, Grande Perret, publishes in the Journal Officiel letters containing evidence of the existing of conspiracy. Among them is the following from Gustave Flourens, which was found on Beaury when arrested here.

My Dear Friend: I have duly received your three letters. I regret that you have addressed them by this way and not through Mr. Smalley, of the New York Tribune, 13 Pall Mall, London, enclosed in an envelope with my christian name. But I hope we shall not have to wait long, and next we shall see each other again in Paris, when all will have ended well. You should have received my letter of the 9th, addressed to Fleury, in which there is one for my friend of Bank. If he has duly received it, and if this friend has handed to you, by Mdme. S., the sum of 400 francs, burn the enclosed letter for him, and there is an end of it. If not, send it to him and act immediately the 400 francs are received. There is not a moment to lose. The men with the patent might go into the country and all will be delayed. But you will succeed. I reckon upon you and your faithful friends. Only go out at night, or in a cab. Take care of the money and don't be imprudent. Do not fail. If possible, I shall be very soon at Paris to assist you once more. I repeat what I have already said to you, either you ought not to have had anything to do with it, or you must be successful. (Signed) GUSTAVE.

It is reported the Government has demanded of England the extradition of Gustave Floureus, on account of his complicity in the plot against the Emperor.

The Siecle explains the situation as follows: "The Government asks for the unqualified approval of the past and a carte blanche for the future."

Traces of the conspiracy have been discovered at Marseilles. There is much agitation at Beziers and troops are constantly arriving there.

The bullion in the bank of France has decreased 5,300,000 francs during the week.

The earnings of Adelina Patti for the past season were 1,000,000 francs, to say nothing of the presents she has received. Her husband has contributed 1,500 francs to the funds of the plebiscitary committee.

It is reported the Spanish Government, deferring to the petitions received from the Antilles, has suspended action on the new constitution for Porto Rico, and will consider no proposition for the sale of Cuba.

The Gaulois says there is a rumor that M. Ollivier will soon exchange the Ministry of Justice for that of Foreign Affairs. The report is generally credited.

Settlements on the Solomon River, Kansas, Reported Threatened by the Savages—Disposition and Movement of Troops.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

ST. LOUIS, May 5.—Intelligence is received here that a large number of Indians are reported to be on the Solomon River, Kansas, threatening the settlements; also that two hundred Indians crossed the Kansas Pacific Railroad between Forts Hays and Parker on the second instant. Later dispatches deny that any Indians are on the Solomon and say no trouble is anticipated there. Three companies of cavalry are stationed at three prominent points on the Solomon, also at Lake Sibley on the Republican river, and the Indians could not penetrate that region without encountering troops or so many cavalry.

One infantry company has been sent to Fort Wallace to protect railroad construction parties west of that place.

Five companies of cavalry, under General Custar, left Fort Leavenworth on Tuesday for Fort Hays, from which point they can move in any direction, should hostile demonstration be made by the Indians.

"March and Bivouac."

Last evening Dr. E. A. Duncan, "Serious Wilkins," gave the first of his entertainments in the Town Hall, Birmingham, under the auspices of the G. A. R. The performance consisted of a lecture on the "March and Bivouac, or Sherman loose in Georgia," comprising a great variety of stories, humorous, pathetic and dramatic, together with descriptive scenes, all relating to the great march, and given in a manner so fresh, and feeling and inimitable, that the fancy and mental characteristics of every hearer could hardly fail to find something at which to be delighted. The Doctor's style is different from what we have been accustomed to hear—different, in that he makes from the every day experiences of his career as a soldier, a rich, racy, humorous, and yet touching and graceful record of army life, always pleasing and equally as instructive. The hall was crowded on the occasion with one of the largest and finest audiences ever gathered there, and to say that they were delighted with the evening's entertainment, or that it was one fully worthy of such an audience, is but recording the truth. There was at the close but one criticism, and that was regret that the hour could not have been extended longer.

To-night the second entertainment will be given at the same place, when the lecture will give place to an elocutionary entertainment. The Doctor evidenced his finished culture as an elocutionist last night and assured his ability to entertain and amuse as well in that line as in other respects. The programme for this evening embraces selections from popular authors of the day, and ranges throughout all the styles from "gay to grave, from lively to severe." Among those to be read are poems of "Shell Anna," a patriotic incident of the battle of Jonesboro, "The Soldier's Record," and an humorous take off on "Poe's Raven,"—all emanations of the Doctor's genius. All of these have been spoken of in high terms by the press of other cities, as well as the elocutionary entertainments throughout. If last night be any criterion we can promise all who attend this evening a rare and racy entertainment.

THE DAILY GAZETTE.

OFFICIAL PAPER
Of Pittsburgh, Allegheny City and Allegheny County.

GAZETTE BUILDING:
Corner of Sixth Avenue and Smithfield Street.

FRIDAY MORNING, MAY 6, 1870.

BONDS in Frankfort, 95½a95¾.

PETROLEUM in Antwerp, 53¼.

GOLD closed in New York yesterday at 114¼.

THE Somerset Whig appears hereafter as the Herald, enlarged and in new type. Mr. Scull, the editor, is one of the oldest and most reliable of our Republican journalists.

GOV. SHAFFER, of Utah, writes that unless the House bill, or some kindred measure for the abolition of polygamy, shall be adopted by Congress, "it will be useless to attempt to establish a just government for the people there." Evidently, the Governor has no faith in the moral suasion which our mock-philanthropists, pseudo-humanitarians and "liberal" statesmen are so confidently reckoning upon, for the extirpation of that twin-relic of barbarism. Why don't they agitate at once for his removal from office? If he stays in Utah, and his advice is followed, a score or two of the leading rebels among the many-wived Mormons may get hurt, especially if they don't adopt the moral suasion view for themselves.

THE preference of many prominent Republicans in Armstrong county finds expression, in the card, in another column, presenting the name of Capt. C. B. GILLESPIE, late of the 78th Pennsylvania Regiment, as a candidate for Congress in the Twenty-third District. Since this district includes nearly one-half of our own county, the canvass very justly has an interest for the Pittsburgh press, and there is an especial fitness in the presentation of the name of a gallant soldier, good citizen and faithful Republican, like Capt. Gillespie, through the medium of the GAZETTE, to its readers.

In this connection we may remark that it is equally the duty and the pleasure of the GAZETTE to exhibit its interest in all the nominations to be made by the Republicans of Western Pennsylvania, since its circulation is general in every county, reaching in many cases readers who neglect another obvious duty, that of subscribing also for their own local journals. Since so many citizens have chosen to rely upon the GAZETTE alone for their current political intelligence, a duty is imposed upon its editors which they will faithfully endeavor to fulfil.

THE PACIFIC ROADS.

The line of the Northern route has been surveyed through Minnesota, two hundred and thirty miles, to the Red River of the North, intersecting that stream above Georgetown. It will be finished to that point before the next New Year. The surveys, with a view to the permanent location of the line beyond that river, are also to be pushed at once. There is no trouble about the requisite funds. On the Southern line, the Memphis & El Paso Company have one hundred miles ready for the iron, which, with the motive power, is now going forward. From El Paso to Fort Yumas, the construction is to be aided by a land grant from the present Congress. From Fort Yumas, on the Colorado, to San Diego, work is also in progress. And the three Companies are about to be consolidated to make one continuous line along the 32nd parallel of latitude.

A SLANDERER ANSWERED.

The merchants of Pittsburgh and the tax-paying people of the county have not forgotten the shamefully mean insinuation, by the Commercial, last winter, that State Treasurer Mackey "might have some difficulty in making up his official accounts." It will not surprise them to hear that, although the year's business, in the Treasury of the Commonwealth, footed up six and a quarter millions of dollars, the office was turned over on Monday last to his successor, not only with every mill of the public property accounted for and paid over, but that it was, for the first time in many years, the first clean Treasury ever surrendered to a successor in the office. It did not show a dollar of illegal assets, although, only one year before, from his predecessor, he had received over $200,000 of such "securities," oil-paper, etc., not a little of which he had hard work to realize upon.

A TIMELY SUGGESTION.

The Lebanon Courier, in the annexed paragraph, directs the attention of all honest citizens to a point which it will be very unfortunate to neglect. The boast, and the menace, of which the Courier speaks, have been heard in more than one quarter of the Commonwealth—and they impose a high responsibility upon all the nominating conventions of the party. We earnestly hope, in the interests of a Republican triumph at the polls, and of the future honor and welfare of Pennsylvania, that the duty of maintaining the sinking fund as a sacred trust, under the Constitution and for the benefit of the public creditors, will be insisted upon, in the most direct and explicit terms, by every convention to be held,—State, district or county—during the canvass. Nor is our hope unreasonable, since we have, from every quarter, the positive assurance that in this regard the Republican people of Pennsylvania do intend to speak so that their voice shall not be misunderstood, or pass unheeded. The empty and delusive talk of 1869, about "honesty and reform," has answered just one, and only one, good purpose. The shameful recreancy to their pledges of the men whom a portion of the people were then led to confide in, has awakened a popular feeling of indignant determination, which nothing less than a square and rugged platform, and nominees who can stand squarely on it, will satisfy. This is what we hear from every county in Western as well as Eastern Pennsylvania. The era of organized public plunder, for the benefit of a few, has gone by,—if the people understand themselves, and they think they do. Says the Courier on this subject:

> As the time for nominating candidates for the next Legislature is rapidly approaching, we have a word of warning for, and a piece of advice to give to our friends. It has been boasted, of our own knowledge, that the defeat of the Omnibus Railroad bill, was only a temporary reverse, and that at the next session the attempt to pass it will not only be renewed, but will be successfully carried. We are satisfied that this is no mere idle threat, emanating from disappointment, but that the huge corporations to be benefited by the measure, will quietly but vigorously undertake to secure a majority in the next Legislature favorable to the scheme.
> It must be remembered also, that in the late Assembly, a full two-thirds stood ready to do their bidding, and that the bill would have been passed over the Governor's veto, had not its delivery been so timed as to preclude such action upon it.
>
> We advise our friends therefore, to see to it in time, that our legislative candidates are specifically pledged, in advance of their nomination, against this and all kindred schemes to rob the Treasury. Let there be no mistake, and no boggling about the matter. We are sticklers for the sanctity of nominations, and hostile to bolting in every form and shape. We cannot afford to run any risk in this matter, nor must there be any reasonable excuse for dissatisfaction with our nominees, in view of the importance of securing through the next Legislature a fair and equitable apportionment bill. Every Republican taxpayer in the district is personally interested in this matter; therefore, let each one look well to his own interest.

A NUT FOR REVENUE REFORMERS.

It has been asserted by the revenue "reformers" that the working-men take no interest in the current discussions on the tariff, that their voices have not been heard in upholding the principle of protection for home industry, against the attacks of the free-traders; that this is wholly the employer's fight, and that if the operatives were heard from at all, it would be rather against than in favor of a system which is conceived in the especial interests of capital alone. To all which, we have replied that the question was eminently one concerning the rights of American labor, in the first instance, capital being only indirectly interested in it, and that its true bearing was no where better understood than by our intelligent operatives, who see clearly that an abandonment of the protective system, in the political economy of the nation, would entail all its mischievous consequences directly upon the labor of the country.

The free-trade school, in and out of Congress, have so long and clamorously persisted in denying that labor feels any just interest in this question, that it has been considered advisable to refute the statement with a most conclusive reply. Accordingly, a delegation of the working-men of this city and its immediate vicinity is now on its way to Washington, for a personal conference with any members of Congress who may desire to acquaint themselves with the precise facts, which will illustrate the practical workings of the American system. It is their purpose to be on the ground, hear the discussions, and, if any opportunity be afforded them, to speak for themselves. We repeat,—the delegation is one of working-men exclusively, sent by the Associations, or "Unions," appointed by a formal vote, at the expense of the operatives themselves, without the solicitation or even the privity of the employers. The delegates may not be able to mouth large phrases with the glibness of a free-trade Congressman or journalist, but they can talk "shop," and they have all the solid facts, to illustrate the meritorious claims of more than one branch of American industry, at the ends of their hard fingers, and in speech, which they will contrive to make understood, even by the Englishmen and Frenchmen who just now swarm in the Congressional lobbies, busy in manipulating facile Congressmen and in cooking up public sentiment for the American people.

The working men of Pennsylvania understand themselves. They read the journals, they note events, and they are quite able to think for themselves. They have observed the progress of this struggle with the deepest interest. Hitherto, they have seen no need for their personal intervention, for the battle has been well fought by the employing class, which they see to be in the same boat with them. Nor would they go to the front even now, except for the purpose of silencing, once for all, the noisy and persistent plea of the ring of foreign importers, that the working masses of the people are indifferent to the continuance of the protective system. The time seems to have come when that sort of talk should be met and put down. This will be the business of the delegation from this city. We presume that they will have the cooperation of committees of working-men from other centres of industry, and that Representatives who want information will now be able to get the genuine article, and from first hands.

The question is, when sifted down to the hard-pan, simply and wholly one of work and wages. Capital is only interested in it indirectly; to the latter a month or a year of idleness is a mere matter of the interest account, while to labor it is one of daily bread. The employer's means will not waste if locked up for a time, while the operative is forced by the pressure of his physical necessities, either to starve, or to submit to harder terms. It is easy, to see which class must ultimately take the burden upon its shoulders. The well paid, well fed and well read working men of America know just what privations the operative of Europe encounters, and their countrymen agree with them in preferring the American policy to that which renders every manufacturing district in Europe a field of popular oppression and misery.

—It is that question of work and wages, which the delegation of our operatives has gone to Washington to illuminate. They can speak as experts—and say more in an hour than the most flippant free-trader can answer in a month.

NEW PUBLICATIONS.

THE BAZAR BOOK OF DECORUM. Published by HARPER & BROTHERS, New York. For sale by E. MINER, Nos. 71 and 73 Fifth avenue, Pittsburgh.

The crowning feature of this delightful book is, that it contains just such information as persons are likely to need in every-day-life, and of the most approved character, too, according to the rules of good society. It gives also all that it desirable to know in matters of fashionable etiquette, and its practicable features are worthy of the highest praise. The book treats of the care of the person, manners, etiquette and ceremonials, embodying grace of carriage and deportment, purity of speech, letter etiquette, dress, parties, calls, letters, correspondence, presents, and with a view also to health, morals and good taste. Its elevated tone makes it unexceptionable, and worthy to be introduced into every household.

MEN AND MYSTERIES of Wall street. By James K. Medbery. Published by FIELDS, OSGOOD & CO., Boston.

Those who desire to know the modus operandi of the Gold Room, and of the movements of the money kings on that famous street, will find all the information they desire in this book. Notwithstanding much of the notoriety of Wall street is of a sensational type, nevertheless there is much to interest and fascinate. The pictures of men and things, described in thrilling words, are interesting, and will do good. Dry as the narration of such events are, they are of vital importance. The style of the writer is piquant, humorous and forcible. The work is handsomely illustrated and well printed, and deserves a large sale.

THE BIBLE IN INDIA: Hindoo Origin of Hebrew and Christian Revelation. Translated from "La Bible L'Inde," by Louis Jacolliet. Published by Carleton, New York. For sale by J. W. Pittock, Pittsburgh.

This is a very curious book, indeed, containing much that is unique and startling to those who cherish a high regard for the Bible of Christians. The comparison of Hindoo and Hebrew views reveal some remarkable things. The author does not look upon the Sacred Word with that reverence that it should receive, as frequent allusions are made to the Bible of a sneering character. Notwithstanding the auther represents the Scripture in an unfavorable light, the book, in proper hands, will afford an insight into the religious views of India that may be valuable and useful to the reader. But it is not a suitable book for general reading.

THE MACDERMOTS OF BALLYDORAN. A Novel. By Anthony Trollope. Published by T. B. Peterson & Bros., Philadelphia.

Trollope has written much and well, and is quite a favorite with the lovers of light literature. We doubt, however, whether this story is equal to some of the author's works, such, for instance, as the "Vicar of Bullhampton." The admirers of the author will do well to get this volume.

HELEN GARDNER'S WEDDING DAY; or, Colonel Floyd's Wards. By Marian Harland. Published by Carleton, New York. For sale by J. W. Pittock, Pittsburgh.

No doubt this well-told story will not detract from the fame of the author, who has printed quite a number of works of fiction. The contents may be readily gathered from the title page, and its character may be judged from the consideration of a matter of so much moment to so many people.

THE GENTLEMAN'S STABLE GUIDE. By Robert McClure, M.D. and V.S., author of "Diseases in the American Stable, Field and Fireside." Published by Porter & Coates, Philadelphia.

Muc valuable information is embodied in this book. It contains matter that comparatively few of the hosts are aware of, who use this noble animal. Such a treatise has been needed for years, and we think this volume will supply the want. It treats of Stables of various kinds; Dietetics, Hygiene, and Regeme; Stable Work, Carriages, Harness, Veterinary Surgeons, etc. The illustrations are very good and timely.

ROBERT GRAHAM. A Sequel to "Linda." By Mrs. Caroline Lee Hentz. Published by T. B. Peterson & Brothers, Philadelphia.

The admirers of this author's writings, and they must be numerous, who have read "Linda," will no doubt want the "Sequel" to that work. This new edition is gotten up in fine style and at quite low rates. The story of "Robert Graham" is highly spoken of, for its grouping of the characters and moral type.

CLEM AND JOYCE; or, The Prairie School. By Mrs. F. B. Smith, Author of "Fanfan Stories," etc.

LUCY FAIR, and other Tales. By Maria L. Johnson. Published by the American Tract Society, Boston.

We are quite sure the young people will enjoy the stirring story of "Clem and Joyce," whose school experience is presented in an attractive form, and reflects so well the history of children on this subject the world over. "Lucy Fair" is a small but interesting book which will interest young girls very much. Young people of both sexes, however, may read the work to profit. Both works are suited for Sunday schools.

THE PASSION WEEK. By the Rev. William Hanna, D. D., LL. D. Published by Robert Carter & Brothers, New York.

When the first volume of this admirable series of "The Life of Our Lord" was received, treating of the "Earlier Years," of Christ, the salient features of the work were described, favorably, as we could not do otherwise than speak well of the work. The glowing style, delicate and vivid pictures presented with such clearness and precision of outline, relieves the work of tameness, which is often observed in books of this character. This volume, and "Earlier Years," are the only ones we have received of the series. When the set is complete we may refer to the work as it deserves. The important events of "Passion Week," commencing with Christ's triumphal entry into Jerusalem, and the subsequent days, ending with depicting the sad scenes of Gethsemane, are discussed with singular ability.

HENRY COURTLAND; or What a Farmer Can Do. By. A. G. Cline. Published by J. B. Lippincott & Co., Philadelphia.

Doubtless most of the readers of this story will be impressed at the outset with the unaffected, simple style of the author. No display is attempted, and, of course, nothing of the sensation "blood and thunder" features are to be seen in the work. Without being a brilliant production, it nevertheless possesses some excellent points and it is a story of a fair moral type, which cannot be said of many works of fiction in these days.

THE NORTH AMERICAN REVIEW. No. CCXXVII. April, 1870. Published by Fields, Osgood & Co., Boston.

This grand old quarterly maintains its high standing in the number before us. The varied character and importance of the articles invite the reader. The opening article is a discussion of The Physics and Physiology of Spiritualism, followed by able papers on "Darwinism in Germany," Parkman's Discovery of the Great West," "The Legal Tender Act," "Poverty and Public Charity," "The Norman Conquest of England," "Tensi's Coup D'Etat," and "The Prospects of the Political Art." The Critical Notices as usual, embracing nearly fifty pages, are able and discriminating.

METHODIST QUARTERLY REVIEW. April, 1870. Published by Carlton & Lanahan, New York.

This Quarterly is edited by Rev. Dr. Whedon, an author of high repute and an able scholar. Aside from its denominational character, each number contains articles highly valued by members of other denominations, as well as by distinguished scholars not connected with any religious body. Among the noticable articles is: "The Power of Mind over Nature," by Prof. Cocker, of the University of Michigan; "Josephius and Aphion," by Dr. Pond, of Bangor, Maine, and "Romanism and the Common School System," by Dr. Abel Stevens, of Brooklyn N. Y. The synopsis of the Quarterlies and religious magazines of this country and Europe, and Critical Notices, by the Editor, are regarded with great favor by the press generally.

OUR GERMAN PRESS.

The Republikaner speaks of Woman's Suffrage, and says that the results of the agitation of this subject have not recently been brilliant. The triumph in Wyoming in the Desert seems destined to stand alone. In Massachusetts, regarded as their strong hold, the Legislature has defeated a resolution calling for an amendment to the Constitution granting suffrage. In Utah where women can vote they do not. In Minnesota the Governor has vetoed the Woman's Suffrage bill, and in Illinois 1,400 women of Peoria have petitioned against such a bill. Besides this, a lively opposition is noticeable among sensible and respectable women all over the country. Only in Pittsburgh, generally so quiet and modest, the emancipation spirit has suddenly seized upon a small number of women and girls of—the so-called cream of our Anglo-American Society—who have begun to agitate the woman's rights question. Still it is to be expected that this infant project will die in its cradle.

THE Volksblatt is sarcastic on the Sunday question, beginning with remarks upon the attempt to prevent dancing and similar amusements in Chicago on Sunday, and winding up with a fling at Pittsburgh, which closes thus: "Beer and wine are not to be had here, and if there should be dancing on Sunday the walls of the Smoky City would fall down in sorrow. Therefore, a certificate of residence in Pittsburgh is equal to a ticket of admission to a reserved seat in the first row in Heaven." In the next article the proposed Evangelical alliance is reviewed, and declares it to be not a universal Protestant council, but an exclusive convocation from which many intelligent sects are excluded through their inability to subscribe to their published articles of faith. An interesting article upon the "Germans and Slavonians in Austria," is also to be found in the Volksblatt copied from the Vienna Free Press.

The Freiheits Freund has a long article on the subject of crime, in which it objects to the temporary insanity plea so often successfully used in criminal defences, but suggests that it would not be possible to use it with effect before an intelligent jury, if the laws were modified so as to agree with public opinion, so that, for instance, the death penalty would not be the result if a man be found guilty of murdering the seducer of his wife.

OF the Kerr scandal, the Lebanon Courier remarks:

> If the facts are as stated, he should never again be permitted to take a seat in the Senate. When Kerr first formed his alliance with the Democrats, we suspected him * * * and it seems the suspicion was just.

THE Washington Reporter says:

> It is reported that a movement is quietly on foot to bring out Hon. J. K. Moorhead as a competitor with General Negley for the Congressional nomination in the Twenty-second District.

CONGRESS—XXIIIrd DISTRICT.

EDITORS GAZETTE: Please announce the name of Capt. Charles Gillespie, of Freeport, Armstrong county, as a candidate for Congress, subject to the decision of the Republican Primary Election and District Conferees. Capt. Gillespie served during the war for the Union, was a good soldier, and is deserving of the confidence of the people. He is honest, capable and conscientious.

SOUTH BUFFALO.

The California Steam Plow.

The San Francisco Bulletin says:

The plow has been greatly improved within the past six months. The Hetaluma Journal of a late date has a few interesting facts concerning the working of the plow near that place last winter. It was set to work here that its capabilities might be tested on adobe soil. The place selected for the experiment was such as would give a fair test of its adaptation for work under the most unfavorable circumstances, a portion of the ground being exceedingly hard, covered with anise, tar-weed and soap-root, and scarcely susceptible of being plowed in the ordinary manner. The steam plow did excellent work in this ground, pulverizing the earth as fine as could be desired, to the depth of from three to five inches, and leaving a smooth, even surface. It casts all weeds and roots to the top of the ground, where they are exposed to the sun, and their destruction insured. The evenness and uniformity of the work—a very desirable consideration, as every farmer knows, and not attainable by the ordinary mode of plowing—are noticeable features of its work. When in operation, the machine moves forward at about the rate a man ordinarily walks, and plows a space twelve feet in width, and at any required depth. While in operation on Hill's ranch, it plowed from two and a half to three acres an hour. One of the most convincing proofs of its utility is to be seen in a comparison of the growing crops on land plowed in the ordinary manner and by the steam plow. An examination shows that the latter has a most decided advantage. While, as before stated, the ground worked by the steam plow is found level, smooth and thoroughly pulverized, and the grain, standing this time some six inches in height, and evenly distributed throughout in a field immediately adjoining, and of the same character of soil, but plowed with an ordinary plow, the grain is scarcely three inches high, very unevenly distributed, nearly choked with weeds, and the field generally presenting but a sorry figure when compared with its neighbor. This superiority is due to the thorough pulverizing of the soil to a uniform depth, the destruction of all weeds deleterious to the growth of the crop, and the even surface of the ground after the plow has performed its work.

The inventor is now at the East engaged in constructing an improved plow possessing these advantages: 1st. It will plow and plant 40 acres of land per day, at an expense of one-fourth that is required to perform the same work in the ordinary way. 2d. It can run night and day, and owing to the rapidity of its work will enable the farmer to put in a large crop in a few days, when the soil is in a proper condition to be worked. 3d. By its use land that would otherwise be nearly worthless can be reclaimed and made to produce good crops. 4th. It pulverizes the soil to a uniform depth, leaves the surface smooth and ensures the complete destruction of the weeds that often outgrow and choke down the crop. 5th. It does its work in a manner every way superior to that done by horse-power, and must ultimately supersede the latter on level land. 6th. By detaching the plows the machine can be used as a reaper and thrasher, or for any other purpose for which steam power is required.

Useful Hints.

Hall's Journal of Health advocates the moderate use of tea or coffee at meals, and denounces cold water and alcoholic beverages. Tea and coffee for supper and breakfast add to human health and strength, if only a single cup be taken at each meal, and is never increased in strength, frequency or quantity. If they were mere stimulants, they would, in the course of time, either become inert or positively injurious. But science and experience unite in declaring tea and coffee to be nutritious as well as stimulant; hence they do a new good to the system every day to the end of life, just as bread and fruits do. The habitual use of tea and coffee at the first and last meals of the day has another high advantage—is productive of incalculable good in averting evils. We drink at our meals, and if we do not use tea or coffee, we will do what is worse—cold water, milk or alcoholic mixtures. The regular use of the last will lead the young to drunkenness, the use of milk at meals by sedentary people will produce constipation or biliousness, while cold water largely used in cold weather attracts to itself so much of the heat of the system in raising water to the heat of the body, that digestion is arrested and deadly sickness of the stomach sometimes caused.

"Picking the ears" is a most mischievous practice; in attempting to do this with hard substances, an unlucky motion has many a time pierced the drum; nothing sharper or harder than the end of the little finger, with the nail paired, ought never to be introduced into the ear, unless by a physician; persons are often seen endeavoring to remove the "wax" from the ear with the head of a pin; this ought never to be done, first, because it not only endangers the rupture of the ear by being pushed too far in, but if not so far, it may grate against the drum, excite inflamation and an ulcer which will finally eat all the parts away, especially of a scrofulous constitution; second, hard substances have often slipped in and caused the necessity of painful operations to fish or cut out; third, the wax is manufactured by nature to guard the entrance from dust, insects, and unmodified cold air, and when it has subserved its purpose it becomes dry, scaly, light, and in this condition is easily pushed outside, by new formations of wax within. Occasionally wax may harden and may interfere with the hearing; but when this is the case, it is the part of wisdom to consult a physician and let him decide what is the remedy; if one cannot be had, the only safe plan is to let fall in the ear three or four drops of tepid water, night and morning, the saliva is better still, for it is softer and more penetrating, but glycerine is far preferable to either; it is one of the blandest fluids in nature and very rapidly penetrates the hardened wax, cools the parts and restores them to a healthful condition; if in a week there is not a decided improvement in the hearing, medical advice ought to be had at once, as next to the eye, the ear is the most delicate organ of the body.

The Stanislaus Silver Mines.

From the Tuolumne City News we learn further particulars concerning the recent discovery of the lost silver mine in Stanislaus county. Although nothing establishing the richness of the mine is known beyond the general belief that it is the mine about which legend and story has told so much during the past twenty five years. That was rich beyond anything discovered by the white man, and there are undisputed evidences about the discovery that the mine has been worked many years before the acquisition of California by the United States. The mine is situated in what we will call a slide in the mountain, which has left bare the various formations of rock. The old shafts are sunk in a row on a vein of what we shall term blue quartz, intermixed with mica and slate, in many places partaking of the nature of serpentine rock. The various sulphurets and pyrites of iron predominate to a great extent among all the rock, and in several instances we noticed traces of the carbon of copper. In the absence of any well defined foot or hanging walls, we are at a loss to determine it a lode or a chimney, or mass, or mountain, if you please, of this kind of rock. Let this be as it may, if this is silver ore, there is sufficient quantity of it for all purposes. The old shaft, now being cleaned out, contains timbers over a foot in diameter, the length of which is not yet ascertained. These timbers are of the common nut pine, which usually decays quite rapidly. Close around the mine several trees have been cut. The scarf on the stump, whilst not smooth, such as the American would make, is yet much better than the general run of California Mexicans are in the habit of leaving. There are also remnants of an old hair rope, an oaken bucket, the staves of which are decayed, and the hoops of which were rusted. We found also the handle of a pick or some implement, which is made of the common live oak of the country, and is in a decayed condition. As we said before, the amount of work done is considerable, but until the old shafts are cleaned out, no estimate can be formed of the exact character, or what it was done for.

ON account of the prevalence of relapsing fever in Philadelphia, the well known Bedford street district, thought to be the vilest in the world, has been examined and found in a truly horrible condition. More than two hundred sick have been already removed to hospitals, and many have died amidst filth and wretchedness almost inconceivable. The Bulletin gives a ghastly account of a visit paid by a reporter to the vicinity. Men and women raving or dying were found lying in the open streets; loathsome masses of filth three yards thick were found in cellars and back yards, and the streets are filled with heaps of garbage. The Bulletin winds up it's long and horrible article by the statement that Bedford street has not been cleaned for thirty years.

For the Pittsburgh Gazette.

TENDERNESS.

BY CAROLINE.

Come and sit beside me, darling, let me feel my hands in thine,
And that rapture of my spirit, when your heart beats close to mine,—
When the love-light from our mutual eyes in thrilling radiance slips,
And our souls ecstatic mingle at the meeting of our lips.
Let thy heart be kind this evening, if my love you ever prize,
Or my beauty ever made me like a glory to your eyes;
Let your heart be mine, once more as warm, as tender and complete,
As it was when once you swore it, with your lips upon my feet.
For I must implore one favor from your tenderness to-night
As compared to which all others I have ever asked are light;
I implore it by the future joys at which our hopes are aimed—
And by memory of those moments past, too sacred to be named.
Bend your face, my darling, closer, closer, closer down upon my breast,
Till my lips their pray'r have whispered—there upon thy lips will rest—
"Take me to the MERCY FAIR to-night and give me all your votes,
For a lovely—I forget what now—on which my spirit dotes."

L'ANTRE, Pittsburgh, May 6th, 1870.

THE Springfield (Mo.) Leader, of April 28, says: "A very strange tragedy occurred in this county last Friday, which resulted in the death of Ev. Hollingsworth, well-known in this city as Deputy Sheriff and City Marshal two years ago. At the expiration of his term of office he removed to a farm seven miles south of the city, on the James River, on the road leading to Ozark. Last Friday afternoon, about 5 o'clock, information was brought to him that a man had fallen out of a wagon into the river, and he immediately mounted his horse and went to the rescue. He found the man, and, from his appearance and actions, concluded he was drunk. The deceased proceeded to bathe the man's head and wrists in cold water. While doing this, Mr. W. H. Patterson rode up, and entered into conversation with Hollingsworth. While they were conversing, the drunken man suddenly raised himself up, with a knife in his hand, and commenced cutting Hollingsworth, who retreated before the infuriated man, who caught the deceased by the shoulder and cut him two times, once in the shoulder, and once, fatally, in the breast. Patterson went to the assistance of Hollingsworth, but too late—the fatal blow was struck. The deceased was taken to his house, and died the following Sunday at 2 o'clock. The man who committed the deed is a perfect stranger. His name is O. R. Reed, about fifty years of age, and lives near White River. He is now in jail."

THE Nashville (Tenn.) Press and Herald says that Governor Senter, distressed beyond measure that his fealty to the best interests of the people of Tennessee should be so widely questioned by the press and the people of the State, has expressed his intention to send in his resignation to the Legislature early this month.

AN OLD FALLACY EXPLODED.

Thirty or forty years ago, it was the fashion to administer powerful purgatives as "spring medicines." Terrific doses of salts and senna, calomel, and jalap, or glauber salts were given to all the members of a family, whether sick or well, by way of preparing them for the warm weather in prospect. This pernicious custom is nearly obsolete, but there are some old Bourbons of private life, incapable alike of forgetting anything, or learning anything, who obstinately cling to it still. Nothing could be more pernicious, more utterly unphilosophical, than such an onslaught on the vigor and elasticity of the system. In order to enable the physical structures to resist the enervating effects of spring damps and summer heats, it should be toned and reinforced, not relaxed and weakened. The best medicine agent for this purpose is Hostetters Stomach Bitters. Its effect is to tone the stomach and liver, gently relieve the bowels from obstructions, brace the nerves, improve the quality of the blood, stimulate the appetite and cheer the spirits. In this improved condition the organization is capable of resisting unhealthy influences which would prostrate an enfeebled system. A vigorous digestion is absolutely essential to health, and there is no danger of the stomach faltering or failing in its important office if this general vegetable elixir is taken regularly as a stomachic. None of th tonic tinctures or extracts will supply the place f the Bitters, for the simple reason that they operate as astringents only. In fact, in ordinary practice, five or six prescriptions would be required to produce separately, the beneficial results, which are effected simultaneously, and harmoniously by this single specific.

LOAN
of the
Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad Co.

The Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad

Is completed and running from RICHMOND, VA., to the celebrated WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, in West Virginia, 227 miles. It is being rapidly extended to the Ohio river, 200 miles further making in all 427 miles.

In its progress Westward, it penetrates and opens up to market the WONDERFUL COAL DEPOSITS OF THE KANAWHA REGION IN WEST VIRGINIA. And thus brings the superior and abundant Coals of that section into communication with the IRON ORES OF VIRGINIA AND OHIO, and the WESTERN, SOUTH WESTERN AND EASTERN MARKETS.

When completed it will connect the SUPERIOR HARBOR FACILITIES OF THE CHESAPEAKE BAY with reliable navigation on the Ohio river, and thus with the ENTIRE SYSTEM OF RAILROAD AND WATER TRANSPORTATION OF THE GREAT WEST AND SOUTHWEST.

It will make a SHORT, EASY, CHEAP and FAVORABLE ROUTE from the WEST to the SEA and will command a LARGE SHARE OF THE ENORMOUS FREIGHTS seeking transportation to the coast.

It will thus become one of the most IMPORTANT AND PROFITABLE EAST AND WEST TRUNK LINES OF RAILROAD in the country, and command a trade of immense value.

The completed portion of the Road is doing a PROFITABLE AND INCREASING BUSINESS, and is fully equal in value to the whole amount of the mortgage upon the entire Line ($15,000,000.)

The Loan of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad Company, being a FIRST MORTGAGE UPON THE ENTIRE LINE, PROPERTY AND EQUIPMENTS, WORTH WHEN COMPLETED AT LEAST $30,000,000, is therefore one of the most substantial, conservative and reliable Railroad Loans ever offered in the market, and is peculiarly adapted to the wants of

PLANING MILL MEN
And Others,
TAKE NOTICE!

The undersigned has letters patent of the United States for the improved construction of weather-boarding, inside lining and wainscoting for houses. The weather-boarding, by this patent improvement, being intended for vertical use, and combines great durability and beauty of appearance, and it is so constructed as to prevent water from entering the joint of the weather-boarding by the action of the weather on the timber.

Inside lining and wainscoting by this new method are so constructed as to form perfect panels as cheaply as by the ordinary flooring boards alone; thereby preventing the showing of the joints from any cause, such as shrinkage, &c.

He has also purchased the patent right of what is commonly known as the "Moulded Weather-boarding."

He has disposed of the following territorial and shop rights in Allegheny county, for both patents, to wit:

To G. A. Mundorff, the right of the territory south of the river in said county.

To McQuewan & Douglass, shop rights for their ward, Pittsburgh.

To Hill, Patterson & Co., shop rights for Eleventh ward, Sixth ward, Pittsburgh.

To Alex. McClure, for the borough of McKeesport.

To Parker & Paul, for First, Second, Third and Fourth wards, city of Allegheny.

To Reed Brothers, shop rights at their mill in Seventh ward, city of Allegheny.

To Dunham, Shaw & Co., for the boroughs of Sharpsburg and Etna; also the townships of Shaler and Indiana.

Infringers and all persons infringing upon either of said patents, and those wishing to purchase, will please call at my office, No. 75 Smithfield street, Pittsburgh, Pa.

DR. WHITTIER
CONTINUES TO TREAT ALL PRIVATE DISEASES. Syphilis in all its forms, all urinary diseases, and the effects of mercury are completely eradicated; Spermatorrhoea or Seminal Weakness and Impotency, resulting from self-abuse or other causes, and which produces some of the following effects, as blotches, bodily weakness, indigestion, consumption, aversion to society, unmanliness, dread of future events, loss of memory, indolence, nocturnal emissions, and finally so prostrating the sexual system as to render marriage unsatisfactory, and therefore imprudent, are permanently cured. Persons afflicted with these or any other delicate, intricate or long standing constitutional complaint should give the Doctor a trial; he never fails.

A particular attention given to all Female complaints, Leucorrhea or Whites, Falling, Inflammation or Ulceration of the Womb, Ovaritis, Pruritis, Amenorrhoea, Menorrhagia, Dysmenorrhoea, and Sterility or Barrenness, are treated with the greatest success.

It is self-evident that a physician who confines himself exclusively to the study of a certain class of diseases and treats thousands of cases every year must acquire greater skill in that specialty than one in general practice.

The Doctor publishes a medical pamphlet of fifty pages that gives a full exposition of venereal and private diseases, that can be had free at office or by mail for two stamps, in sealed envelopes. Every sentence contains instruction to the afflicted, and enabling them to determine the precise nature of their complaints.

The establishment, comprising ten ample rooms, is central. When it is not convenient to visit the city, the Doctor's opinion can be obtained by giving a written statement of the case, and medicines can be forwarded by mail or express. In some instances, however, a personal examination is absolutely necessary, while in others daily personal attention is required, and for the accommodation of such patients there are apartments connected with the office that are provided with every requisite that is calculated to promote recovery, including medicated vapor baths. All prescriptions are prepared in the Doctor's own laboratory, under his personal supervision. Medical pamphlets at office free, or by mail for two stamps. No matter who have failed, read what he says. Hours 9 A. M. to 8 P. M. Sundays 12 M. to 2 P. M. Office, No. 9 WYLIE ST., (near Court House) Pittsburgh.

MONEY AND COMMERCE.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, THURSDAY, May 5, 1870.

Gold is steady at 114⅞ to 114⅞, appearing from time to time weak and strong, but on the average the market has a strong undertone.

Bonds are very dull and lower; 1862s have declined from 111 to 110⅛, and new 1865s from 112⅞ to 112⅛ with large offers to sell.

Stocks are very strong and closed higher under manipulations and an easy money market. Our local market is well supplied with funds.

PITTSBURGH CATTLE MARKET.

EAST LIBERTY STOCK YARDS, THURSDAY, May 5, 1870.

The offerings were again very meagre this week, which is evident from the fact that the sales since the date of our last report (this day week) were less than 400 head in the aggregate. There were plenty of buyers in attendance, including an unusually large delegation from Philadelphia, and a much larger number of cattle could have been sold if they had been here; the supply did not begin to satisfy the demand, notwithstanding prices ruled high and holders were very stiff. The great trouble just now lies in the fact that the great proportion of the western cattle are being shipped east by other routes, as the rates are much lower than via Pittsburgh. But for this there is no doubt but what the receipts here would be much larger, and with increased offerings, lower prices would follow. It may seem strange, yet it is nevertheless a fact, that cattle are almost as low in New York as they are here, and cheap freights is the cause of it. For the last two or three months the average sales here per week have not exceeded 400 head, not more than sufficient in ordinary times to supply one shipper. The whole blame for the stagnation in the cattle trade here may be attributed to an unfair and unjust railway discrimination, and so long as this discrimination is persisted in, we need not look for any material improvement.

SHEEP.

There is a continued active demand for sheep, and with only moderate arrivals and plenty of buyers, both from Philadelphia and New York, the market is strong and prices well sustained. Clipped, averaging 80@85 lbs, sold at 6@6⅛, one drove selling as high as 6⅞, and another, averaging 84 lbs, at 6⅛; 70@75 lbs averages brought 6 cts. Very few wool sheep offering, and what few there are, are mainly of an inferior grade, and if the wool was off would be denominated scalawags. It seems not a little remarkable that the arrivals continue so light, as it would be naturally inferred that the present prices should bring them out.

HOGS.

The market is a shade stronger as compared with last week, and Philadelphia Hogs are ⅛ higher, being quoted at 9⅞@10. York Hogs sold at 9@9⅞ and the demand for both grades was fully up to the supply.

PITTSBURGH LUMBER MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, THURSDAY, May 5, 1870.

The market has been comparatively quiet for some days past but it is probable that there will be an early improvement, as the season is fast approaching when deallers will commence to lay in their summer supplies. Timber is quoted as follows:

Pine	12⅞@16 cts per foot
Hemlock	8 @10 cts per foot

It is moving off slowly but steadily at full prices. There is considerable inferior lumber on the market, and it sells very slowly as it is not wanted. Large timber is in demand, and is being sold at full quotations. Sales 100,000 feet at 16 cts; 100,000 feet at 15⅞; and 90,000 at 15.

Boards are being sold at $18@20 per M. The stock in first hands is light and considerably below that of this time last year. Dealers have not yet commenced to buy to any extent, being disposed to hold back in expectation of lower prices, while holders, on the other hand, are stiff and refuse to make concessions. Sale 500,000 feet, 1st quality, at $22; 450,000 feet 2d quality, at $18,75.

Live Stock.

BALTIMORE, May 5.—Beeves are more active at last week's rates. Sheep are in fair supply at 4⅞@7⅞c. Lambs active at $3@5 per head. Hogs 12@13⅞c for good to extra; supply fully equal to the demand.

CHICAGO, May 5.—Cattle fairly active at $4,87⅛@8 for stockers to extra prime steers. Hogs opened tolerably active and 15@20c lower; sales at $8,25@8,90 for common to choice, closing quiet.

ST. LOUIS, May 5.—Cattle in good request at 4⅞@7⅞c; hogs firm at 7@9⅞.

Milwaukee.

MILWAUKEE, May 5.—Flour firm and unchanged. Wheat weak at 94c for No. 1 and 90⅞c for No. 2. Oats dull at 48c for No. 2.

PITTSBURGH MARKET.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, THURSDAY, May 5, 1870.

Trade in general merchandise is moderately active, though it might be better, there is plenty of room for improvement. The grain business has flattened out considerably within the past week or ten days which is owing, in part at least, to the adverse advices from the east, both oats and corn, having fallen to a point that almost puts an end to shipments for the present. It may seem a little remarkable, yet it is nevertheless a fact, that Cincinnati has been a better market for our grain shippers this winter and spring, than Philadelphia, and the shipments by Pittsburghers to the former have been much larger than to the latter place. For oats and corn, prices have been relatively higher in Cincinnati than in Philadelphia, and then the freight is much less; it costs about 13 cts per bushel on oats to the latter place, while to the former (by river) the freight is only 6 or 7 cts, a big item in these times of close margins. The Provision market is steady with a regular demand, and prices are well sustained; there has been a sharp advance within the past two or three weeks, and a very nice opening for those who are of a speculative turn, and those who are carrying stocks bought before the big decline, are feeling more comfortable. In groceries, there are no new characteristics; there is a continued good demand, and a good business in the aggregate, but under the influence of a strong competition margins are very small.

ASHES—Firmer but not quotably higher. Common Soda Ash 4; refined do, 4⅜; Pearls, 9@9½; Pots, 7⅜.

APPLES—In steady demand and limited supply but unchanged; $4@5 per bbl.

BUTTER—Continues dull, and while the arrivals are not large, and the stock of the better grades in the hands of the commission men, comparatively light, prices are weak and drooping. We now quote prime fresh roll at 30 cts.

BROOMS—Store prices; Fancy, $5,50; No. 1, $4⅞; Fo. 2, $4; No. 3, $3⅞; Common, $2⅞@3.

BEANS—There is no improvement to note in the demand and no change to make in quotations, $1,50@2 per bushel.

CORNMEAL—In fair demand with sales at 90@$1 per bushel, as to quality.

CRANBERRIES—Season about over and market almost bare.

CEMENT—Sales of Louisville cement at $3@3⅞ per bbl.

CARBON OIL—Is firmer, and standard brands may be fairly quoted at 24c.

CHEESE—Is dull, the demand for common Ohio being very light. York State Goshen is quoted at 17 to 18.

DRIED FRUIT—The demand is rather better but prices remain unchanged. Apples 6@7 cts; Peaches, 7@7⅞ for quarters, and 8@9 for halves; pared, 16@18. Blackberries, 12@13; pitted Cherries, 25@28.

EGGS—The demand continues light and the market dull, though prices are unchanged, 14@15 cts.

FEATHERS—Live geese feathers are quoted at 85@90, with the usual advance for small lots in store.

FLOUR—The market is quiet but firm, and prices are well maintained; the receipts have been rather larger during the past week, but the demand seems to be equal to the supply and holders are not disposed to press sales. We continue to quote western flours, in store, at $5@5⅜ for spring wheat, $5,50@6 for winter, and $7@7⅞ for fancy brands. Rye flour, $5.

GRAIN—The grain market is quiet and devoid of anything new or important. Wheat is in demand and the offerings continue light; we continue to quote at $1,15@1,20 for red, and $1,25@1,30 for white. Oats dull but unchanged; 47@48 in first hands, buyers furnishing sacks; and 51@52 for small lots in store. Corn, notwithstanding the arrivals continue light and the stock in market considerably reduced, is quiet though unchanged; 83@85 for ear, and 88@90 for shelled. We are reported sales of Rye at 97@$1, cash and time. Barley continues quiet and unchanged; 85@90 for fair to prime spring.

HAY—Continues dull with a supply in excess of the demand; sales from country wagons at $12@20, for common to strictly prime.

HOMINY—Market almost bare, but there is little or no inquiry for it; $6@6⅛ per bbl.

LARD OIL—Is firm and tending upward. We now quote Extra No. 1 at $1,30@1,32, and No. 2, at 88@90.

LIME—Is steady but unchanged. Eastern, $1,75; Cleveland, $2,25.

PROVISIONS—Is reported firm with a steady city and country demand, and while prices are unchanged they are well sustained, and dealers are not disposed to make concessions in order to effect sales. Plain Shoulders, 13@13⅛; Sugar Cured, 14@14⅛; Rib Sides, 16⅛; Short Rib, 17; Clear Sides, 17⅛; Plain Hams, 16⅛; Plain Sugar Cured, 18⅛@18⅞; Canvassed do, 18⅞@19. Breakfast Bacon, 17⅛@18. Dried Beef, 19⅞@20. Mess Pork, $29⅛. Lard, 17⅛@17⅞, in tierces, and 18 to 18⅞ in kegs and buckets.

POTATOES—Dull and in good supply, though not quotably lower. Sales of prime Peach Blows at 40c—in small lots, 3 to 5 cents more.

PEA NUTS—Dull; prime Tennessee still quoted at 8@9 cts.

SEEDS—There is little or nothing doing in either Timothy or Cloverseed as the season is about over. Flaxseed, $2,15 bid—a round lot would probably bring $2,20.

PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, THURSDAY, May 5, 1870.

The oil market continues strong, both crude and refined, and compared with yesterday, prices are a shade higher. As a general thing, a strong market and better prices is regarded as an indication of improved business, that the demand is in excess of the supply; but the oil business does not seem to be controlled by the old established laws of trade, and, consequently, is subjected to some very curious and remarkable freaks. Prices of both crude and refined are higher than last week, and the feeling is much stronger, but the trade, so far as Pittsburgh is concerned, is none the better of it; the sales are no larger this than last week—there was no margin for the refiner then and there is none now. A refiner remarked to-day that he made a little money this year, but it did not come from his refinery, and this is doubtless the case with others.

CRUDE.

As intimated, is firmer and tending upward. Sale 1,000 bbls spot at 12⅞; 1,000 seller May at 12½, and 1,000 at 12⅞. Seller June, 12⅞ bid; buyer all year 14⅛@14⅜.

REFINED.

There is a considerable inquiry, particularly for the near months, and that, too, at an advance compared, with yesterday, but there are no sellers. May, 28 bid; May and June, 27⅞; May to July, 27⅞; May to December, 28⅛; July to December 28⅞; August to December, 28⅞; September and October, 29; buyer all year, 30⅛@31.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

☞ CONSUMPTION.
DR. SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP for the cure of Coughs, Colds and Consumption.
DR. SCHENCK'S SEAWEED TONIC for the cure of Dyspepsia and all the Debilitated Conditions of the Stomach.
DR. SCHENCK'S MANDRAKE PILLS, for Diseases of the Liver or to act as a Gentle Purgative.
All of these three Medicines are often required in curing Consumption, though the Pulmonic Syrup alone has cured many desperate cases. The Seaweed Tonic and Mandrade Pills assist in regulating the Stomach and Liver, and help the Pulmonic Syrup to digest and search through the blood vessels, by which means a cure is soon effected.
These Medicines are conscientiously offered to the Public as the only safe, certain and reliable remedy for Pulmonary Consumption, and for all those morbid conditions of the body which lead to that fatal disease. Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia are often forerunners of Consumption, and when they manifest themselves they require the most prompt attention.
The Pulmonic Syrup is a medicine which has had a long probation before the public. Its value has been proved by the thousand cures it has made through a period of more than thirty-five years, in all of which time its reputation has increased, and the most obstinate skepticism can no longer doubt that it is a remedy which may be used with confidence in all cases which admit of a cure.
If the patient will perseveringly follow the directions which accompany each bottle, he will certainly be cured, if his lungs are not too much wasted to make a cure possible. Even in cases supposed to be incurable, when friends and physicians have despaired, the use of this Medicine has saved the life of the patient and restored him to perfect health.
Dr. Schenck does not say that all cases of Pulmonary Consumption are within the reach of medicine, but he emphatically asserts that often when patients have the most alarming symptoms, such as a violent cough, creeping chills, night sweats, general debility, even to such a degree that they are obliged to lie in bed, and when they are given up by their physician, they may still be cured. No medical treatment can create new lungs, but when the lungs are very sadly diseased and to some extent destroyed, a cure may be effected by Dr. Schenck's medicine.
Also, in Scrofulous Diseases, these medicines are equally efficient. Dr. Schenck has photographs of a number of persons who have been nearly covered with running sores and now all healed up. This shows its purifying properties, which must be able to heal cavities in the lungs.
In the treatment of Consumption it is of the utmost importance to give vigor and a healthy tone to the system. Hence it is necessary to strengthen the appetite of the patient and improve the digestion. Proper nourishment is required together with such means as will make the food easily digestible. The articles most suitable for the diet of Consumptive patients are designated in Dr. Schenck's Almanacs, which are distributed gratuitously. In general, the most highly nutritous articles are to be preferred, but the digestive organs must be strengthened in order to make either food or medicine serviceable. This requirement is met by the Seaweed Tonic, and for this purpose it was designated.
When the digestive powers are put in good order, the food has its proper effect; the system of the patient is invigorated and the lungs begin to exercise their functions in a normal and healthy manner. Then the healing powers of Pulmonic Syrup will effect the cure.
Pulmonary Consumption is almost always complicated with Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint. Schenck's Mandrake Pills are intended to remove obstructions from the Liver and restore its healthy action. They have all the efficacy which is ascribed to calomel or "blue mass," and are warranted not to contain a particle of any mineral poison. These Pills cure the most obstinate costiveness, sick headache, piles, billious affections, and all other diseases which arise from a torpid or obstructed condition of the Liver. One box of these pills will prove the efficacy of the medicine.
In Consumption the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are invaluable auxiliary medicines. They relieve the sufferings of the patient and assist the Pulmonic Syrup in effecting a cure. They have been found useful in advanced stages of Consumption, where the lungs are almost entirely destroyed and all symptoms according to the judgment of the physician indicated a speedy death. The lives of patients who were actually in a dying condition have been preserved for months by the use of Schenck's three great remedies.
Dr. Schenck's Almanac contains a full treatise on the various forms of disease, his mode of treatment and general directions how to use his medicine can be had gratis, or sent by mail by addressing his Principal Office, No. 15 North Sixth street, Philadelphia, Pa.
Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 a half dozen. Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. For sale by all druggists. de7:d&T

Some people pooh-pooh the "Universal Suffrage" doctrine, contending that a limited franchise is much better. They would even make common sense the shiboleth and test that by the use or disuse of Pier, Dannals & Co.'s cream ale, a sure test.

Slight Fire.—Monday evening about eight o'clock, the stove pipe in Keister's millinery store, 476 Penn street, became heated and set fire to a partition through which it passed. There was no alarm struck. The damage amounted to $94; fully insured.

Disorderly House.—Hester Dance made information before Justice Heisel, yesterday, charging James Wasson with keeping a disorderly house. James was arrested, and after a hearing, was committed to jail in default of bail for his appearance at Court.

New School House.—The brick work on the new school house in the borough of Millvale, was commenced a few days ago. The building will be two stories high and furnished with all the modern conveniencesfor a public school house. The estimated cost is $6,000.

Squire Eggers of Allegheny is a great bird fancier. About a dozen of the winged warblers, in cages, adorn his office, and all day long make melody—an agreeable variety to the monotony and vexation of litigation.

Killed.—Daniel Sullivan, of this city, was killed by being run over by the night express train of the Allegheny Valley Railroad at Emlenton, yesterday morning. He was twenty-seven years of age, unmarried, and in the employ of the road.

Injured.—Michael Kaercher, working at Anderson & Woods' steel works, yesterday, was badly crushed by a sheet iron door, which he was handling, falling upon him. He was injured internally, anp in such a manner as to cause some doubts as to his recovery.

Wolfish.—Among the attendants before Alderman Irwin at the Allegheny Mayor's office yesterday morning were Mr. and Mrs. John Wolf. They were disposed of—John going to the Workhouse for ninety days, and Mrs. Wolf retiring for thirty days to the county jail.

"Orange Steel."—That is the name of a colored man, a resident of Centre avenue who was before Alderman Thomas yesterday, charged with keeping a ferocious dog about his premises. Albert Wetternot was the prosecutor. Orange was held for a hearing.

Bawdy House.—Yesterday Ida Williams and Amanda Douglass, colored, were brought before Alderman Butler, charged by Susan Williams with maintaining "a comon bawdy house" on Arthur street. Subsequently the case was settled and prosecution withdrawn.

Alderman Irwin yesterday sent John Treterbaugh to the Work House for twenty days. Treterbaugh was drunk the evening previous, and attracted the attention of a lot of juveniles, one of whom he finally struck on the head with a lump of coal, inflicting a severe wound.

Messrs. C. P. Markle & Co., the leading Paper Manufacturers west of the mountains, contemplate building one of the finest warehouses in the city this coming summer. The house will be twenty-four feet wide and four stories high, running from First to Second avenue.

Large Casting.—Yesterday from Garrison & Co.'s foundry was shipped to Cleveland an immense iron roller, twenty-six inches in diameter, eight feet long and weighing sixteen thousand pounds. It required eight horses to haul it on timber wheels from the foundry to the depot.

A Runaway occurred on Liberty street yesterday. The horses attached to Rohe's grocery wagon, were frightened by a locomotive started off, upset the groceries, spilled out the driver, and wrecked the wagon. Nobody, however, was hurt, the unfortunate driver miraculously escaping injury.

Larceny.—J. T. Whitesides was relieved of his pocket book, containing $20, while under the influence of liquor, and he is of opinion, according to his statement to Justice Salisbury, that John Puff took the money. A warrant was issued for the arrest of Puff and he was arrested and held for a hearing.

Beastly.—About seven o'clock last evening Anna Reynolds was found lying on the side walk on High street in a beastly state of intoxication. She had two children with her, one about three years of age, and the other a babe scarcely a year old. The youngest when found by the officer was thought to be dead, but on further inquiry it proved to be drunk.

Lamp Explosion.—Last evening a lamp, which one of the clerks held in his hand, exploded in the cellar of M. A. Jones' drug house, corner of Smithfield street and Seventh avenue. The man escaped injury, but the boards on the floor of the cellar caught fire, and created an excitement. No alarm was struck. The Neptune Hose-carriage was brought out, and the fire extinguished without much damage.

Gratifying Announcement.—The public generally, and housekeepers in particular, especially those in want of a Looking-glass, will be both gratified and benefited to know that T. H. Chapman, wholesale jobber in Looking-glasses, has opened a full line of glasses at retail, and will sell them at from twenty-five to thirty per cent. less than any other house in the city, at No. 43 Market street, two doors below Third avenue. 6

Shop Entered.—Wednesday afternoon the carpenter shop of Jacob Sliegler, corner Penn and Twenty-second street, was robbed of a lot of tools and about four dollars in money. The money was in the pocket of a coat hanging up in the shop. Mr. Sleigler investigated, and thinking he had sufficient evidence against Michael Gallagher, yesterday made information against him before Alderman Taylor. Michael was arrested and held for a hearing.

Another victim.—Another victim made his appearence at Alderman Thomas' office yesterday. His name was Louis Steinley, and his occupation that of proprietor of a "hash mill" on the Frankstown road. Among the patrons of the establishment was one Kaseky. Kaseky is not a patron now; he left a littlebill behind him. It is said he obtained credit at the "mill" by false pretence-this is the charge upon which Alderman Thomas, at Steinley's request, issued a warrant for his arrest. The case will be heared to-day.

A Refusal.—John Felson is proprietor of a boarding house on Third avenue. Among his boarders some time ago was one W. H. Burke. Mr. Burke ran up a bill of $30 and couldn't run it down again. In lieu of cash he left a lot of furniture as security until the debt could be paid. Yesterday with the cash in hand he went to Felson, demanded the furniture, and met with a refusal. This forms the basis of an information for larceny as bailee, Burke prosecutor, Felson defendant, upon which a warrant was issued.

True Bill Found.—Gilroy, the bogus revenue officer who endeavored to turn an honest penny by "setting up" a case against a Twelfth ward grocer, [leading him to commit a fraudulent act against the revenue law, and then offering to compromise for $500, forging the name of Commissioner Gamble to a letter purporting to have authority to fix the "little matter,"] stands a good chance for the penitentiary. A true bill has been found against him by the U. S. Grand Jury. The grocer, against whom a charge growing out of Gilroy's operations was pending for a violation of the revenue laws, was discharged by the Court, the Grand Jury having 'ignored the indictment.

Amusements.

Mr. Chanfrau entertained the patrons of the Opera House last evening with the thrilling drama entitled "Kit, or the Arkansas Traveler." The audience was quite large and as upon former occasions the piece was well rendered. This evening he will take a farewell benefit when the house will doubtless be crowded.

Recaptured.

On the first of March last John Frankfort alias John Reddy escaped from theecounty jail. Due diligence was used to secure his recapture, and on Tuesday was rewarded by tracing the escaped prisoner to a jail in Cincinnati. Warden Scandrett visited that city and identified the man, who was confined under the alias of Ford on the charge of peddling stolen cloth. After considerable trouble with the authorities there who seemed reluctant to let the prisoner come this way and escape punishment there, Mr. Scandrett finally got possession of his body and now he is philosophizing on the hardships of crime in our county jail.

CITY COUNCILS.

Special Meeting of Select Council—City Hall Bill Approved—Salary of the Secretary to Fire Commissioners—Other Business.

A special meeting of the Select Council of the city was held in the Council Chamber, city building yesterday, Thursday, May 5th 1870, for the purpose of considering the bill increasing the City Hall fund $200,000, and for the transaction of such other business as might be brought before Council.

Members present—Messrs. Ahl, Aiken, Bissell, Brown, Burgwin, Devlin, Duncan, Edwards, Gallaher, Glenn, Hartman, Herron, House, E. P. Jones, Isaac Jones, Kirk, Liddell, Littell, Morrow, Murdoch, Murray, McEwen, McMahon, Rafferty, Schmidt, Scully, Seeley, Shipton, Wainwright, Wilson, and President McAuley.

The reading of the minutes of the preceding meeting was dispensed with.

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. Burgwin raised the point of order whether one branch of City Council could hold a meeting legally without a meeting of both branches being called. He said there was no provision made for it in the rules; that all the rules in speaking of the matter referred to Councils and not to a branch of Councils.

Mr. McAuly, in the chair, stated that it had been the practice of this Council for twenty years past and he knew of no rule to the contrary.

Mr. Burgwin said if it had been the practice of Councils he had no further objections to make.

OBJECT OF THE MEETING.

The object of the meeting was then stated by the Chairman, who said that Common Council at the last regular meeting had passed a resolution approving of the bill providing for the increase of the City Hall fund, which had been laid over in this branch. As it was necessrry for the completion of the work that the bill should be approved, and it was desirable that it should be completed at as early a day as possible, he had called this meeting for the purpose of taking action on the matter.

NEW MEMBER SWORN.

The Mayor presented the returns af a special election held in the Fifth ward for the election of a member of Select Council to fill the vacancy occurring by the resignation of Dr. McMeal, and the certificate of the election board of the election of J. C. McCarthy, Esq.

The papers were read by the President.

Mr. Rafferty moved that the oath of office be administered to the member elect. Adopted.

The President then administered the oath of office to Mr. McCarthy, who took his seat as a member of that body.

THE CITY HALL BILL.

Mr. Brown moved that the resolution passed in Common Council at the last meeting approving of the City Hall bill be taken up. Adopted.

Mr. Brown then moved to concur with the action of Common Council.

Mr. McAuley, President, was of opinion that it was necessary to suspend the rules in order to pass the resolution finally.

Mr. Burgwin disagreed with the President. The rules of Councils provides that a paper coming from one branch to the other, should be considered on second reading, and as this matter had been before Council at the previous meeting, and coming from Common Council, was now, under the rules, on its third reading and final passage.

The President thought that the member from the Twenty-third ward might be right, but as it was a matter of great importance, involving the expenditure of a large sum of money, he hoped that some member would move to suspend the rules. He did not think the opponents of the bill would be captious about the matter, as a failure to suspend the rules would only necessitate the calling of another meeting at which the resolution could be passed by a mere majority.

Mr. Brown—Although I do not agree with you, Mr. President, and think it unnecessary, in order to make the matter satisfactory, I will move to suspend the rules.

Mr. Kirk called for the yeas and nays on the question, with the following result—yeas 24, nays 8.

As it requires a three-fourth vote to suspend the rules the motion was decided in the negative.

The President stated that he would now give notice to Council that he would call a special meeting on Friday, the 6th, at which the resolution under consideration could be passed by a majority vote.

Mr. McCarthy moved to adjourn.

Mr. Jones moved to adjourn to meet at two o'clock on Friday, the 6th inst.

Considerable confusion ensued, after which the motions to adjourn were withdrawn.

Mr. Kirk then moved to reconsider the action of Council on the City Hall bill. He said he did not desire to be captious, and as the matter now stood it would necessitate the calling of another meeting. He had done his duty he thought in opposing the measure, but as he was in the minority it was useless to contend any further.

The motion to reconsider was then adopted.

Mr. Morrow then moved a suspension of the rules and final passage of the resolution.

Mr. Kirk asked that the question be divided. He could vote for a suspension of the rules, but under no consideration would he vote for the passage of the resolution approving the bill. He thought it a useless expenditure of $300,000 of the peoples' money, and would never give his consent to it. He thought a better building could be erected for half the money, and that the City Hall Commissioners were not the proper men to entrust with the completion of the work.

Mr. McCarty replied to Mr. Kirk in defense of the Commissioners in a forcible and lengthy argument.

The motion to suspend the rules was then adopted.

Mr. Jones moved the final passage of the resolution.

Mr. Kirk called for the yeas and nays, with the following result:

Yeas—Messrs. Aiken, Bissell, Brown, Burgwin, Duncan, Edwards, Glenn, Hartman, Herron, House, Jones, E. P., Jones, Isaac, Littell, Morrow, Murdoch, Murray, McEwen, McCarthy, Rees, Schmidt, Shipton, Wilson, President McAuley—23.

Nays—Messrs. Ahl, Devlin, Kirk, Liddell, McMahon, Rafferty, Scully, Seeley, Wainwright, S. J.—9.

So the resolution was adopted.

UNFINISHED BUSINESS.

The following business acted upon in Common Council at a previous meeting was taken up and the action of C. C. concurred in.

Plans of grades of Lang and Dallas avenues. Approved.

Report of viewers on the opening of Lang avenue. Accepted and approved.

Report of Viewers on the opening of Denny and Miltenberger alleys, accepted and approved.

Ordinance for the opening of Crescent street passed finally.

Bates' plan of lots in the Twenty-first ward, accepted and approved.

CLERK TO THE FIRE COMMISSIONERS.

Mr. Kirk offered an ordinance supplementary to an ordinance, creating a paid Fire Department, providing that the Fire Commissioners shall fix the salary of their clerk or secretary at a sum not to exceed six hundred dollars per annum.

The ordinance was adopted without a dissenting vote.

RAILROAD CROSSING.

Mr. Duncan offered the following, and moved that it be referred to a committee of five, two from Select and three from the Common Council.

WHEREAS, The crossing of the Fort Wayne and Chicago Railroad on Penn street is generally conceded to be a great public nuisance, endangering daily the lives and property of our citizens, and

WHEREAS, It is the duty of Councils to protect the lives and property of the citizens to the extent of their ability, therefore,

Resolved, That a committee be appointed to ascertain the best method of correcting this evil and report to this Council at its next meeting.

The resolution was adopted and Messrs. Duncan and Gallaher appointed from Select Council.

Mr. McEwen presented a petition for a gas lamp on Duncan street. Referred to the Gas Committee.

Mr. Jones—Petition for the opening of Webster avenue and Morgan street, in the Thirteenth Ward. Referred to the Road Committee.

Mr. Devlin—Petition for the change of grade on Penn avenue, between Main and Forty-fifth streets, accompanying which was an ordinance providing for the same. Referred to the Survey Committee.

Mr. Brown, a remonstrance against the opening of Granville street. Referred to the Street Committee.

Mr. McAuley, petition from the Agent of the Western Union Telegraph Company, asking permission to erect new poles on Liberty street. Petition received and privilege granted.

Mr. Burgwin stated that it was quite evident that Councils could not transact the business of the city by meeting once a month, and moved that rule thirty be so changed as to require Councils to meet semi monthly. Adopted.

Councils adjourned.

Visited the Arsenal.

The United States Grand Jury, now in session in this city, yesterday visited the Allegheny arsenal not however in an official capacity but as citizens of various portions of the State, sufficiently interested in Uncle Sam's affairs, to acquaint themselves with one of his best managed and regulated military store houses, work shops and quarters. They bore with them a letter of commendation to Gen. Whitely, from Hon. Judge McCandless, and we need not say they were hospitably received and gentlemanly treated, for a different reception would have been foreign to the gallant officer commanding, and more especially when the "good words of credit" came from his friend on the Bench. The visitors were shown through the grounds and buildings and were delighted with all that was to be seen. The government property at the arsenal was never in better keeping than at present. Everything about the premises is in good order while fastidous cleanliness prevails in each department. The Grand Jury had also the pleasure of receiving courteous attentions from Captain Ramsey as polite and accomplished an officer as ever wore a uniform, and altogether their visit to the arsenal was most pleasant, instructive and enjoyable.

A TAIL.

A Drop of Blood—A New Remedial Agent—Science Gives Way to Superstition—The "Pale Rider" Cheated—How Thomas Lost his Tail, and What Was Done With It.

Superstition will probably never cease to exert, in a greater or less degree, its influence over the mind. Even in the present age, with all its advancement in knowledge, the power of superstition is felt and controls in many cases where the power would not be openly acknowledged. Evidences of it are furnished daily in the commonest and sometimes most important events of life. Who can estimate the number and influence of the "signs" which are talked of and recognized as forebodings of good or evil. The principle has invaded all departments of human life, and at times an old housewife's superstitution, foolish as it may seem, has been sufficient to set aside all knowledge and assume complete control—a forcible illustration of which is given in the following circumstance, which a few weeks ago transpired in the city:

The wife of one of our most prominent business men and respected citizens was taken sick with a malignant fever. The most skillful medical aid was summoned, but the disease continued to gain headway. All that wealth and loving friends and the physician's experience could devise was called into requisition, but the sufferer found no relief; in less than a fortnight all hope had gone; the woman hovered on the shore of eternity's ocean and its dark waters almost laved her weary feet. Just at this juncture an aged dame, a confidant of the sick one, called up from the store-house of memory an old superstition, and insisted that if "a drop of ablack cat's blood" could be administered with the medicine the recovery of the patient was certain and sure to be speedy. The prescription was at first treated with contempt, but as often as rejected was urged again, and with a pertinacity which at length induced an acquiescence in the demand, the friends thinking it could do no harm and would pacify an old associate.

The next concern was to get the cat. It was a stipulation in the prescription that the vital fluid should emanate from a feline perfectly black, as Erebus or charcoal—so black that not a single white or any other colored hair should be visible in its fur. Scouts were sent out in all directions to look for such an animal, but the search was rather discouraging. Cats of all ages, sexes, colors and descriptions, save the one desired, could be procured in abundance. The record of the experience of these scouts, if preserved in proper form, would add an invaluable chapter to feline history. At last after a long and wearisome day of perambulations, one of the seekers happened to pass along Craig street, Allegheny,—and there basking in the sunlight, and calmly reposing upon a door mat in front of an inviting residence, lay a feline answering exactly to the description. It was but the work of a moment to summon the mistress of the mansion and make known the case. The lady was kind hearted enough, but unfortunately the animal was not her own; another member of the household claimed and held it sacred, almost as the apple of his eye. By some fortuitus circumstance the owner arrived at this moment, and after an urgent appeal, accompanied with a proviso that Thomas (it was a male feline) should not be damaged, further than the extraction of a drop of blood from the tail, it was given into the possession of the seeker. No more was seen of Thomas until two weeks after his departure. He then returned but not all that went away. Before his visit if there was one thing he had been proud of, it was a long bushy, shiny, caudal appendage. When he sought his home again he was without anything of the caudal kind, and bore with him instead a relic of what had been his pride—a stump, which straightened out like a liberty pole on a calm day. To say that there were hostile demonstrations in the house of his owner, when the situation was realized, would be stating it mildly; to record that the appearance of Thomas, shorn of his beauty and glory, was the signal for a domestic tornado, would be writing the truth.

The remainder of the story is soon told. The new remedial agent was administered and found effective—or rather from the time it was given the woman began to improve and literally "up from the jaws of death" she came. Vigor and health returned rapidly. The chamber of sorrow and death in less than a fortnight became one of convalescence and to-day should the reader perambulate one of the principal thoroughfares in the 12th ward and enter one of the finest residences in the neighborhood, he would find surrounded with luxury and refinement, one who appears as if she had never been sick in her life—the heroine of this strange but true tale of superstition.

FIRE COMMISSION.

Organization of the Board—Committees Appointed.

The Fire Commissioners elected under the Act of Assembly and City Ordinance creating a Paid Fire Department for the city of Pittsburgh, met at the Mayor's office for the purpose of organizing, last evening. From the number of persons assembled in and about the place of meeting during the evening it might be inferred that a lively interest was manifested in the matter, which inference would doubtless be correct. There is an exciting contest for the offices of Chief Engineer of the Fire Department and Secretary of the Board, both of which are elected by the Board and the friends of the several candidates, were of course on hand. There were also a number of applicants for the minor positions in the gift of the Commission in attendance, but they were all doomed to disappointment, as the Commission determined to make no appointments at that time.

The Commissioners, all being present, met at half-past seven o'clock with closed doors, and organized by electing Henry Hays, Esq., Chairman, and Wm. M. McKelvey, Secretary pro tem.

The Mayor was then called in and administered the oath of office to the members of the Board as prescribed by law, after which the following business was transacted:

On motion of R. Finney, Esq., J. H. Stewart, R. Finney and M. Moorhead, were appointed a committee to define the duties of the Secretary.

On motion of Mr. Reese, Messrs. Reese, McElroy and Torley were appointed a committee to take a schedule of property belonging to the different engine companies.

On motion of J. H. Stewart, the Secretary was instructed to procure from Clerks of Councils a certified copy of the ordinance creating the Paid Fire Department under seal.

The following resolution was adopted:

Resolved, That the Superintendent of the Fire Alarm Telegraph be instructed to report to the Commission the number of men employed on the line, the duties and salaries of each watch, and to suspend any and all improvements upon the line until notified by the Commission to proceed, said report to be presented to a meeting of the Commission on next Saturday evening.

Adjourned to meet Saturday evening, May 7th, at 7½ o'clock.

A Brave Act.

The Philadelphia Inquirer of Wednesday, has the following: "Two young men, on Monday afternoon, hired a boat at Fairmount for the purpose of taking a row. They had not proceeded far when the boat was overturned and the men were thrown into the water, and would have perished had it not been for Mr. Harry Coulter, of Pittsburgh, who was at the boat-house of the Quaker City Barge Club at the time. With some difficulty he succeeded in running out a boat, and pulled out to the drowning men, who were almost exhausted when reached. At one time it seemed as if Mr. Coulter and those whom he had preserved from death would be carried over the dam, but Mr. Coulter's admirable management of the boat prevented such a catastrophe."

Malicious Mischief.

James Wasson made information before Justice Heisel yesterday charging Hester Moss alias Dance with malicious mischief. He alleges that the accused came to his residence in Lower St. Clair township about eleven o'clock Saturday night and threw a brick threw his window, striking one of his children and injuring it severely. There was also a charge of assault and battery in the information, in which it was alleged that the accused struck the wife of the prosecutor. The accused was arrested, and in default of bail for her appearance at Court, was committed to jail.

In a Saloon.

Joseph Droskey called on Alderman Butler yesterday. It was an official call. He related to the Alderman a tale of suffering. He was a barkeeper in a saloon in Birmingham. The saloon, Thursday evening, was visited by Christian Wilbert, Jacob Larber and Philip Lipe, who after a few minutes conversation unprovokedly raised a row, beat and finally threw beer into his face. He couldn't bear the last insult and so sought redress in an information for assault and battery against his assailants. They were arrested and gave bail for a hearing.

THE RICHMOND DISASTER.

An Appeal for Aid.

The following circular, from Messrs. Wm. F. Mumford, G. K. Gilmer, David P. Barker and Miss E. L. Van Lew, a Committee appointed to prepare an address to the people of the United States relative to the circumstances of the sufferers by the recent calamity at Richmond, Va., as an appeal for aid, was received by Mayor Brush yesterday:

"Our beautiful city has again been visited by a dire calamity. We have been called to mourn the loss of many of our most valued and beloved citizens. Scarcely a family in our midst is exempt from the shadow cast by the Angel of Death. We do not mourn as those without hope.

We have the sympathy of the good and generous in every portion of our land, and we can plainly see through our tears the hand of a kind and benificent Providence. Many sweet drops of comfort are mingled in the bitter cup of our affliction.

The number of sufferers in this great calamity is not less than three hundred and fifty persons, of whom sixty five have died and many more are seriously injured. Many of the families of those whose lives were taken from us, and many others who were dependent for support upon those who were wounded, and are now helpless to give assistance, are suffering for the necessaries of life. To these we will esteem it a privilege to minisier; but we would especially invoke the spirit of harmony and charity in its most enlarged sense, and in our sympathies ignore all political and social distinctions in this hour of common suffering and sorrow.

"The object of the address is in the interests of a common humanity, to afford an opportunity to the benevolent of the whole country to give such assistance as their feelings may prompt."

Any contributions left with Mayor Brush will be promptly forwarded to the Committee. In 1845 our citizens were the recipients of aid from the people who now make an appeal to our benevolence. Let us not be ungrateful.

A Young Hero.

Yesterday we had the pleasure of meeting with an accomplished young gentleman who, as much as any body else, gave rise to the beautiful romance of the late war of the "drummer boy of Shiloh," and figured as the hero. It was Mr. John L. Clem, whose mother was once a resident of this city. He is now spending a few days with the family of Mr. Abel, of the Postoffice, and is on his way to West Point Academy. Mr. Clem entered the army at the outbreak of the rebellion as a drummer boy running away from home so to do, although he had scarcely attained his tenth year. His manly and dignified bearing, indomitable spirit and moral courage made him a great pet in the Army of the Cumberland. At the battle of Chickamauga he was left between the two armies, and a rebel Colonel rode up to him and demanded his surrender, striking at him at the same time with a sabre. He responded by shooting the officer dead, and safely retreated to the Union ranks to receive honor and laudation from his comrades who had witnessed his heroic act. He was at once placed on General Rosecrans' staff, and subsequently was adopted for military education by the lamented General Thomas. He served throughout the war, and was once seriously wounded and taken prisoner. In 1869 he was appointed by General Grant to West Point, but from his diminutive size was debarred from entering that school. Now he has acquired the necessary heighth, and will take his place in the Freshman class, with a firm resolve to do the best he can to sustain the splendid record he made in the late war. Intelligent, frank and good-looking, he commands attention and respect, and we are sure he will one day prove an ornament to the regular army.

A Word of Advice.

To persons having any business in the real estate or brokerage line, we can cordially recommend Mr. Charles Jeremy, one of our best known and most reliable citizens, who has established himself at No. 68 Grant street. Mr. Jeremy has made his reputation in this vicinity by fair dealing in a long business career, and it is of such a character that no additional commendation is needed. In his present circumstances he is especially fitted to accommodate every patron. Possessed of ample facilities in the way of money, and with a thorough knowledge of real estate in this vicinity, and sound judgment, he will be found exactly the man to deal with in either line of the business in which he is engaged. He has now about $30,000 on hand, which will be loaned out on good security on the most favorable terms. For money or real estate transactions Mr. Jeremy can be relied vn.

Patti.

When Carlotta Patti sang in Dresden every ticket was sold at a premium, and the "Linkesche Bad"—the largest hall in the city—was crowded as no one since the days of Sontag had ever crowded it. Here the furore is not quite so marked, yet there are but a very few of the choice, reserved $2 seats still to be had, and we expect that the most brilliant audiences Pittsburgh has ever held will greet the fair artist to-night and to-morrow night. Many of our music loving citizens, who choose to get a first class article for the least possible money, will probably avail themselves of the chance to get good seats in the Family Circle for $1.00, or in the Upper Tier for 50 cents, at which price the music will be just as sweet as down in the boxes, so that Miss Patti will probably witness that rare sight, a theatre crowded from pitt to dome with an audience made up altogether of the upper and more intelligent classes.

Accident at Sharpsburg.

Yesterday morning a very serious accident occurred to William Schade, one of the employes at Lewis, Bailey, Dalzell & Co.'s rolling mill, at Sharpsburg. He was attending some iron which was being passed through the rolls when one of the pieces, by some means, sheered aside and struck him on the right thigh. In an instant it had burned the flesh to a crisp into the bone. The unfortunate victim was taken to his residence, in the vicinity, and Dr. Redlick called in. He suffered terribly during the day and the physician last evening thought amputation would be necessary to save his life.

Victoria and Eugenia

About a dozen years, I suppose, have passed away since I saw the Empress Eugenie and Queen Victoria sitting side by side. Assuredly the difference even then might well have been called a contrast, although the Queen was in her happiest time, and has worn out terribly fast since that period. But the quality which above all others Queen Victoria wanted was just that in which the Empress of the French is supreme—the quality of imperial, womanly grace. I have never been a rapturous admirer of the beauty of the Empress; a certain narrowness of contour in the face, the eyes too closely set together, and an appearance of artificiality in every movement of the features, seem to me to detract very much from the charms of her countenance. But her queenly grace of gesture, of attitude, of form, of motion, must be admitted to be beyond cavil, and superb. She looks just the woman on whom any sort of garment would hang with grace and attractiveness; a blanket would become like a regal mantle if it fell round her shoulders. I verily believe she would actually look graceful in Mary Walker's costume, which I consider decidedly the most detestable, in an artistic sense, ever yet induced by mortal woman. Poor Queen Victoria looked awkward and homely indeed by the side of this graceful, noble form; this figure, that expressed so well the combination of suppleness and affluence of imperial dignity and charming womanhood. Time has not of late spared the face of the Empress of the French. Lines and hollows are growing fast there; the bright eyes are sinking into their places; the complexion is fading and clouding. But the grace of form and movement is still there, unimpaired and unsurpassed. The whitest and truest shoulders still surmount a noble bust which, but that its amplitude somewhat exceeds the severe proportions of antique Grecian beauty, might be produced in marble to illustrate the contour of a Venus or a Juno. I have seldom looked at the Empress of the French, or any picture or bust of her, without thinking how Mary Wortley Montague would have gone into bold and eloquent raptures over the superb womanhood of that splendid form.—Justin McCarthy in "Galaxy."

TIDIOUTE.

A New First-Class Oil Strike.

[From our Special Correspondent.]

TIDIOUTE, May 4, 1870.

Some workmen leased ten acres of the Tuttle Farm some time since, and put a well down to the oil-rock. Some parties who had closely observed their work, were pleased with the sand first pumped from the rock, and before oil had been struck, purchased the well with the ten acre lease for $15,000. Oil was reached on the 2d inst., the well tubed on the 3d, and this day, (the 4th,) the yield of oil is not less than six barrels per hour. Experienced oil men say the indications are sure of a 250 barrel well. The workmen who sold this lease have another of ten acres on which they will at once sink a well. Much excitement is exhibited concerning this remarkable well, which is situate on Scott Hill, about a mile from the river at White Oak Station, and about five miles from Tidioute. The fortunate purchasers of this well are Fisher Brothers, of Pittsburgh, Brownson & Harrington, of Titusville, and J. W. Irwin, of Petroleum Centre.

The effects of this strike on the value of adjacent land, is indicated by a sale of an adjoining tract of 159 acres by a widow lady to Messrs. Grandon & Neyhart of Tidioute for $120,000. These are wealthy gentlemen of large experience than whom none are more capable of estimating the value of such property. The transaction smacks a little of the old times of 1864 and '65. A gentleman just arrived from Brady's Bend reports that the celebrity of that locality is now producing only about four barrels per hour or 90 to 100 barrels per day and he corrects the mistaken impression that the well was only 1,225 feet deep, he says it is actually 1,369 feet deep.

I witnessed this day the conflagration of the derrick, engine-house and tank, with about 100 barrels of oil, on lot 234 of the Triumph Company's farm. The working interest belonged to the Weible Bros. The well was producing but three barrels and will be abandoned.

It may interest some of your readers to know that Messrs. Watson & Crosley have taken possession this day, of the well known Triumph Tract, under a lease for a term of years, from the Company. These lessees have ample resources, and are determined to proceed at once with a liberal scale of resusitation and development, having full faith that under their management the Triumph can be brought back to its ancient glory.

December 30th, 1869, in Cross Creek Village, Pa., JAMES L. REA, M. D., aged 32 years.

The subject of this notice was born in Cross Creek township, Washington county, Pa. He attended a full course of academic studies in Cross Creek Academy, under the tuition of Professors R. J. McMillan and T. C. Stockton. He studied medicine under Dr. R. Anderson, of Cross Creek, and Dr. John Dorman, of Hickory, Pa. After attending lectures at Jefferson Medical College, in Philadelphia, Pa., he commenced the practice of medicine in Elderville, Pa. As a physician he stood high among his fellow practitioners, and had great success in the practice of his profession. After the rebellion broke out he went into the Army of the Potomac as surgeon. While in the army he contracted disease, from which he never recovered, and after suffering the most intense pain for over three years, he was called from earth to Heaven. He had never united with the Church of God, but regretted on his dying bed that he had never done so. At the close of his life he gave unmistakable evidence of the reality of the religion of Jesus Christ. While at Granville Water Cure, in Ohio, he said that often in the hours of night, when he could not rest on account of pain, he often prayed that God would restore him to health, in order that he might better prepare for eternity. While on his dying bed he said to his wife, "Weep not for this mortal dying body, but rather pray that before I be called hence, I may have a good hope given me of having an abundant entrance administered unto me into the kingdom of glory." He often warned those that came to see him of the importance of preparing to meet their God. He has left a wife and one child and numerous friends and relatives to mourn his departure; but they mourn not as those who have no hope. We trust he has gone to that land of glory above, where no pain can ever come, and where sorrow has forever fled. His body lies in the cemetery at Cross Creek, and there awaits the call, "Awake and sing, ye that dwell in the dust."
